Second Polio Clinics In Session on Sunday

"The fact that the county has not had one case of polio reported in two years must not make us complacent." This is the attitude of Dr. John Harrington, who strongly stresses the importance of attendance at Sunday's clinics of all the people of all ages to receive either their booster or their first immunity dose of the Sabin oral vaccine.

IT IS ESPECIALLY important for those individuals who did not receive any vaccine and those who took only one or two types of the vaccine in 1962 to attend this Sunday as this will be their last chance to become completely immunized against the dread disease, he said. This must be followed by attendance at one of the two November clinics for the booster dose, he noted.

"Good, but not good enough," was the reaction of officials to last Sunday's turnout for the clinics.

OVER 8,500 people received the doses of vaccine taken orally on a small cube of sugar. This number includes about one-fourth of the people who took the complete series in 1962, and if this percentage continues to show up at the three future clinics, there is a good chance that everyone will have received his booster at the conclusion of the clinics.

Crowds totaling 10,000 or more are expected at the seven county sites Sunday.

TIME FOR clinics is 11 a. m. to 5 p. m. at the following locations: —See 'Second,' Pg. 19

Local GI Tells Parents About Korean Flash Flood

A flash flood in Korea last Sunday had repercussions in Warren County. Pfc. Remi Allen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Allen Sr., serving with the 55th Military Police Co., U. S. Army, was among those who sustained personal losses during the storm.

PRIVATE ALLEN advised his parents that the storm occurred in the area of Seoul and the entire village of Magakni, north of Seoul, was flooded.

He said the army installation, 12 to 15 miles south, also suffered and that six inches of rain fell in a period of three hours. The quonset hut used as barracks for Allen and eleven other G.I.'s was picked up, hurled against another building and completely demolished.

THE TEN MEN sleeping in the hut at the time had to swim to safety and were badly cut up, Allen said in his letter. The Warren man was on guard duty at the time but said that a portion of the quonset where he would have been sleeping had collapsed on top of his bed.

Allen and the other men lost most of their clothing and other personal possessions, which the Army has already paid for. He said, too, that the Red Cross had given each of them $20 to help make up for their losses.

ALLEN RELATED that there were 400 people believed dead in the flash flood and that many more listed as missing. There are 6,000 homeless, he said. A Korean man, who serves as houseboy to the men in Allen's barracks, got his wife and child out just before his house went down in the wake of the torrent.

Mrs. Allen said that Remi had asked her to send some warm clothing for the Korean family as it is beginning to get

Skinner Denies Any Knowledge Of Request He Resign His Post Here

County Planning Director Robert Skinner denied this morning any knowledge of the fact that he has been given an ultimatum to hand in his resignation, but it was learned from reliable sources that the county planning commission has demanded the letter of resignation no later than Monday.

The Times-Mirror revealed Aug. 14 that this decision had been reached by the commission at a secret meeting. Since Skinner has not acted on the request, he has been given the ultimatum.

It is understood that the commission plans to "study" the letter and release it at its regular meeting Wednesday.

Neither David Swanson, commission chairman, nor Richard McCarthy, vice chairman, could be reached to comment today. They are in Pittsburgh seeking "701 funds" which represent federal and state cost of planning and should provide some $30,000 for the county in the next two years.

To obtain these funds, the commission must have an approved director and consultant. The county did not receive matching funds during the interim between William King's resignation as director and the appointment of Skinner, scarcely more than three months ago.

Young King of Greece Is Married Amid Blaze of Royal Splendor

By EDDY GILMORE

ATHENS, Greece (AP)—King Constantine of the Hellenes wed Denmark's beautiful Princess Anne-Marie today amid the Byzantine magnificence of Athens' Greek Orthodox Cathedral.

Anne Marie, 18, became the queen of Greece and the world's youngest queen. At 24 her husband is the world's youngest monarch.

She was a gorgeous bride and the dark-haired king a strikingly handsome bridegroom.

It was a spectacularly colorful ceremony, but it had its very human moments — when Anne-Marie giggled, and when Queen Mother Frederika came close to hitting Britain's Prince Charles with one of the two crowns used in Greek Orthodox weddings.

Charles did not duck, but he eyed the heavy crowns with concern.

Britain's Queen Elizabeth II was the only reigning European monarch not present. Preparing for a visit to Canada, she sent her husband, Prince Philip. Her two teen-age children, Prince Charles and Princess Anne, were members of the wedding party.

Anne-Marie's wedding gown was of duchesse satin, in classic Greek style with a high waist and simple lines. The dress was gathered at the waist by an heirloom brooch, and the bosom was covered with lace that had belonged to her maternal grandmother, Crown Princess Margartha of Sweden, who wore it at her wedding.

Her veil, worn with a family tiara, had been worn by her mother, Queen Ingrid, at her wedding. The wedding gown ended in a short train of frilled silk organza, while another train 40 feet long fell from her shoulders and was carried by her six bridesmaids.

Constantine wore a white military uniform with rows of decorations.

The 45-minute service was conducted by Archbishop Chrysostomos, 85-year-old primate of Greece's Orthodox Church. Looking on was Patriarch Alexei of Moscow and all Russia.

Also on hand was a glittering gathering of kings, queens, princesses and princes. President Johnson was represented by his daughter Lynda Bird. A scorching sun burned from a cobalt blue sky, and inside the cathedral the 1,600 guests and principals looked very warm.

Perspiration stood on many royal brows, including that of bride's father, King Frederik of Denmark.

Throughout the service a choir in the loft sang, providing a soft obbligato to the archbishop's deep tones.

The day was a national holiday, and more than a million Greeks lined the streets to cheer their young king and queen.

After the wedding, Constantine and Anne-Marie, riding in a gilded, open carriage drawn by six white horses, headed a wedding procession through the streets of the capital. Carloads of royalty drove behind them. Bands played, cannon boomed a 101-gun salute from Mt. Lycabettus, highest point of Athens, and all the city's church bells rang.

The wedding climaxed a three-year romance saddened by the death last June of Constantine's father, King Paul and shadowed for the last eight months by recurring threats of war over Cyprus.

The young couple, engaged since January 1963, had planned to marry next January. But with the trying job of king-

LBJ Uses Special Advantage

By FRANK CORMIER

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, back from his first tour of the campaign season, has demonstrated anew that the man in office usually has a built-in advantage over the man who wants his job.

Twice in two days, Johnson dipped into the Pentagon's trove of military secrets for revelations which got great public attention.

Although Johnson at no point directly tied his disclosures to his campaign against Republican rival Barry Goldwater, many seemed to see Goldwater as his target.

In Sacramento, Calif., Thursday Johnson made two major military disclosures, both involving the development of new defense systems which military experts said could properly be lumped in the strategic category.

The President did not say so, but it seemed evident that his revelations were a blunt response to Goldwater's claim that the Democratic administration has failed to come up with any new strategic weapons.

These were the secrets unwrapped by the President:

1. The United States has a new radar that "will literally look around the curve of the earth, alerting us to aircraft and especially missiles, within seconds after they are

Says Interceptions Scored 'Miles Away'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara said today that two U. S. anti-satellite systems have scored several successful intercepts of U. S. satellites up to "hundreds of miles" away.

McNamara appeared at a news conference to give some additional details on the anti-satellite systems which President Johnson announced tersely in a speech Thursday at Sacramento, Calif.

The defense secretary said "I'm under serious restriction" as to what details he could give out either about the two satellite-killer systems or about a new over-the-horizon radar which Johnson also announced. Both, he said, are "very highly classified."

He did disclose that the anti-satellite weapons employ the Air Force's Thor missile and the Army's Nike-Zeus anti-missile device.

McNamara said the Army successfully intercepted its first satellite on Aug. 1, 1963, and the Air Force on May 29, 1964 — in each case, a year after they were ordered to start work on the anti-satellites.

"The two systems have been effectively tested and have intercepted satellites in space, their missiles passing so close as to be within the destruction radius of the warheads," McNamara said.

He declined to discuss whether the warheads are nuclear or conventional, but indicated there was no actual physical intercept—that the satellite-killing warhead was measured as coming within lethal range of the satellite target.

The defense secretary refused —See 'McNamara,' Pg. 19

Khrushchev Backs Down On 'Weapon'

MOSCOW (AP) — Premier Khrushchev has denied that he said the Soviet Union has a new weapon that can destroy mankind.

Khrushchev said Thursday night scientists had shown him a "terrible weapon which shows what mankind can do." He said it was not a nuclear bomb but gave no indication what the weapon was.

Members of a Japanese parliamentary delegation that met with Khrushchev Tuesday had reported he told them Soviet scientists had showed him a new, secret weapon that could destroy all life on earth.

Khrushchev told reporters at an Indian Embassy reception Thursday night: "I said scientists showed me a terrible weapon which shows what mankind can do. I didn't say anything about unlimited power. It cannot be a nuclear bomb because I saw it near Moscow, and a nuclear bomb would require testing and we are not testing now."

Ford, UAW Achieve Last-Minute Accord

DETROIT (AP)—Ford Motor Co. and the United Auto Workers reached agreement in principle today on a labor contract which parallels one attained by Chrysler and the UAW last week.

The agreement came less than an hour before a 10 a.m. strike deadline.

Malcolm Denise, Ford vice president, said the agreement provides for substantially improved retirement benefits, earlier retirement, more paid relief time, an additional week of vacation, improvement factor and other pay increases, two more paid holidays, cost-of-living allowance, broadened insurance and health benefits, and other improvements.

Denise said "the agreement provides for wage and benefit increases closely comparable to those already agreed upon by Chrysler Corp. and the union. It therefore insures that Ford will remain fully competitive with respect to wages and benefits for hourly workers."

Ford said the early retirement program could, as at Chrysler, under certain circumstances, give a worker taking early retirement company benefits of as much as $400 a month.

Nine cents of the current 14 cents cost-of-living allowance will be frozen into the hourly base rate.

The maximum regular weekly payments under the supplemental unemployment benefit plan will be increased from $40 to $50 plus $1.50 for each of up to four dependents.

The company also granted a Christmas bonus under certain circumstances. When the supplemental unemployment benefit fund reaches the point where further contributions by the company are not required, the company-paid five cents per hour per employee will go instead into a Christmas bonus fund. All hourly employees covered by the sub plan with more than one year's seniority will share equally in payouts from the Christmas bonus fund beginning in 1966, if there is enough money in the fund to give each eligible employee a minimum of $25.

In September 1966, the annual improvement factor will go from 2.5 per cent of an employee's base hourly wage rate to 2.8 per cent, or seven cents an hour, whichever is greater.

An additional two cents an hour will be added to base hourly wage rates effective Sept. 5, 1966, after base hourly rates have been adjusted by the improvement factor increase on that date.

There will be no general wage —See 'Ford,' Pg. 19

HONEYMOON TROUBLE — Nancy Kwan watches Jill St. John's attentions to Robert Goulet with a cold eye in this scene from Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's "Honeymoon Hotel." Goulet makes his screen debut in the Panavision and color romantic comedy, following his stage success in "Camelot," and the film also stars Robert Morse, comedy star of Broadway's "How to Succeed in Business Without Really Trying." Henry Levin directed. The movie opens Sunday at the Library Theatre. The co-feature is "The Golden Arrow."

Electronovision Makes Hamlet Possible

For the first time in history, audiences throughout the United States and Canada will be able to gather in their local motion picture theatres on Sept. 23 and 24 to see an important Broadway hit exactly as it is performed on the New York stage.

THE PLAY with which this new era in entertainment will begin is Richard Burton's widely-acclaimed interpretation of "Hamlet," hailed at the Lunt-Fontanne Theatre in New York as one of the outstanding theatrical achievements of all time. It will be presented here by Warner Bros. at the Library Theatre for four performances only, at popular prices, approximating those for first-run motion pictures. There will be no other performances thereafter. More than 1,000 theatres from coast to coast will be presenting Burton's "Hamlet" on the same two days, enabling millions to see the widely-acclaimed John Gielgud production, which recently completed its smash-hit Broadway engagement and will not be seen again.

WHAT WILL make it possible for you and your family to see Burton's "Hamlet" is the great electronic age in which we live. Specifically, credit must go to the revolutionary new electronic-optical process of Electronovision, and its offshoot, Theatrofilm.

Science is constantly pushing back the bound of human knowledge—and of human communication. From the tom-tom to the picture - telephone, inventors have sought new ways to help men communicate with each other over greater and greater distances and at greater and greater speeds. These scientific inventions and discoveries have been utilized with great effectiveness in the arts, enabling men to project the light of their ideas and images to the darkest corners of the earth—through printing, photography, radio, motion pictures, television and, now, Electronovision.

ELECTROVISION and THEATROFILM combine the latest electronic and optical techniques so that audiences everywhere in the world may see an outstanding stage play, or any similar event at prices within the financial reach of the general public. The Electronovision process, which produces Theatrofilm, involves a developmental series of steps that follow this general outline:

Step 1: Electronovision cameras photograph electronically the play or event being enacted. As many as 15 Electronovision cameras, the number utilized for Richard Burton's "Hamlet," may be operated simultaneously. Of particular importance is the lighting innovation developed by Electronovision. Ordinary motion picture or television cameras require intense light—and, of course, the large amount of equipment necessary to produce that light. Electronovision may operate with only available light, as in a darkened theatre.

Step 2: The images captured by the Electronovision cameras are transmitted electronically to a specially equipped monitoring board, located apart from the stage area.

Step 3: Cables carry the impulses to mobile stations that are fully operational for instant recording and transmission.

Step 4: An electronic converter changes the recorded impulses to the necessary size and shape for Theatrofilm projection.

Step 5: Combining the latest developments in optics with those in scientific packaging makes possible the mass distribution of the Theatrofilm product.

Step 6: Audiences in local motion picture theatres may view the "live" Broadway production on the Theatrofilm screen.

ELECTROVISION Theatrofilm is important to you and your family. Only a limited number of people were able to go to the Lunt-Fontanne Theatre in New York to see Burton in "Hamlet." The audience was limited by the geography, by the small number of seats available and by the price of tickets to Broadway productions. Now, through the magic of Electronovision Theatrofilm, Burton's "Hamlet" is brought to your community motion picture theatre so that you may see the entire production in full, as though you were sitting in the theatre in New York.

This is only the beginning. The success of Burton's "Hamlet" will make certain that many other important events will come to your community theatre through the revolutionary new process of Electronovision, a modern miracle of the electronic age.

STARRING WITH Burton in "Hamlet" are Hume Cronin, Alfred Drake, Eileen Herlie, William Redfield, George Rose and George Voskovec. Alexander H. Cohen, who brought Burton's "Hamlet" to Broadway, is executive producer of the Electronovision Theatrofilm, which was directed by William Collier and produced by William Sargent and Alfred W. Crown.

Tickets are now on sale in advance for the four performances of "Hamlet." Seats will not be reserved but the number of tickets to be sold for each performance will not exceed the capacity of the theatre, thereby guaranteeing a seat to each ticket holder.

'Uniform Day' Set by Scouts

Chief Cornplanter Council, Boy Scouts of America, is conducting a "Uniform Day" for all Cubs, Scouts and Explorers today.

Sept. 17 is Citizenship Day and has been selected by the Council as the date to kick off the fall Frontier Round-up program for new members.

Every unit in the Council will be striving for a minimum of 10 per cent more boys this fall.

A special series of recognition awards has been developed to recognize boys who "recruit" new members to the program this fall.

The Frontier Round-up will conclude on Dec. 18.

Chief Cornplanter Council is a participating agency in the Warren Community Chest and the Corry United Fund.

Channel Chatter

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP) — Whimsy and fantasy are as delicate as bubbles, easily shattered by rough handling. And somebody with a sledgehammer got to fooling around with "Be-witched," ABC's new comedy series.

The result, on display for the first time Thursday night, was disappointing, for the original idea was enchanting. It was proposed to take a pretty young witch named Samantha, descendant of a long line of househaunting, broomstick-riding, cauldron-stirring witches, and have her fall in love with a typical, red-blooded American boy.

At that point, apparently, the Hollywood s a s a g e-makers started meddling with the brew. First they transformed the typical red-blooded American boy into an advertising agency man. Then they endowed Samantha with a bunch of those familiar magic tricks that "My Favorite Martian" has been performing for about a year now.

Finally — and this was the lowest blow of all — they added a laugh track that could only have been recorded by an audience watching the Three Stooges throw pies.

Elizabeth Montgomery plays Samantha in a broad style better suited to Carol Burnett. Dick York plays her pop-eyed husband. The meat of the first episode involved a dinner given by the husband's jealous ex-girl friend, who tried to embarrass the bride. Miss Montgomery evoked her best tricks by wiggling her nose like a rabbit, made dishes move, windows fly open and trays spill.

Walter Cronkite has been brought back to the news fronts from a short exile by his CBS bosses who found that two did no better than one heading up the network's convention coverage.

The respected veteran newsman will be reporting the running story of the national elections on the night of Nov. 3 in CBS key commentary spot.

CBS, still trying to improve its ratings for political coverage, plans a radical change of format for covering the returns. Recommended weekend viewing:

Tonight — "Jonny Quest," premiere, ABC 7:30-8 p.m. Eastern Daylight Time, adventure cartoon; "The Addams Family," premiere, ABC, 8:30-9, comedy series about a weird group of suburbanites; "Valentine's Day," premiere, ABC, 9:30-10, Tony Franciosa in a comedy series; "11 O'clock High," premiere, ABC, 7:30-10, Air Force action adventure series; "Small Town, U.S.A.," NBC, 10-11, special documentary.

Saturday — "Flipper," premiere, NBC, 7:30-8 p.m., series about a boy and a pet dolphin; "The Famous Adventures of Mr. Magoo," premiere, NBC, 8-8:30, cartoon series; "Kentucky Jones," premiere, NBC, 8:30-9, comedy series about a horse trainer and his adopted Chinese son.

Sunday — "Broadside," premiere, ABC, 8:30-9 p.m., comedy series about a group of waves in the wartime South Pacific.

Hollywood Reporting

By BOB THOMAS

MONTEREY, Calif. (AP) — In sweatshirt and slacks, he looks as if he might be one of the set workers on the movie location. But he is the man who is spending $4.8 million on the film, the most costly operation of a new entertainment empire.

Martin Ranshoff in repose seems an ordinary man. But that is a state you seldom find him in. Most of the time he roams restlessly and talks tirelessly, largely about new triumphs for Filmways, which is his special baby. "Started with a $200 investment in 1954," he tells you. "Next year we'll be doing a $20 million gross."

He also is happy to report that next month he will have three films shooting with an investment of $10 million: "The Sandpiper" with Elizabeth Taylor, Richard Burton and Eva Marie Saint; "The Loved One" with all kinds of people; "The Cincinnati Kid" with Spencer Tracy and Steve McQueen.

Plus which he will have two movies in release: "Topkapi" with Melina Mercouri and "The Americanization of Emily" with James Garner and Julie Andrews.

Filmways will also have four television series on the air: the top-rated "Beverly Hillsbillies," "Petticoat Junction," "Mister Ed" and the new "Addams Family."

Marty Ranshoff is living proof of the old Hollywood maxim, which I just invested, that there will always be dynamic new promoters to fill the vacuum created by the passing of men like Jerry Wald and Mike Todd. By sheer willpower and drive, Ranshoff has created Filmways in his own image: big-thinking, ambitious, successful.

"I graduated from Colgate and went to work for a film company in New York that was making documentaries," he related. "Then in 1954 I started Filmways. I was 24 years old at the time, and it was a crazy thing to do. But we started to do business with our documentaries and commercials."

Ranshoff went into television by hiring Al Simon, who had directed the Burns and Allen operation. The first product was "Mister Ed," which accomplished the miracle of going from syndication to the CBS network.

Ranshoff said the percentages of Filmways' operation is now 45 features, 45 television and 10 documentaries. He expects the division and size of the enterprise to remain as is: "there just isn't enough talent for us to get any bigger." Or enough Ranshoff, either.

Dear Abby . . .

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My wife and I invited her parents to spend two weeks with us at our summer home. My father-in-law is an ardent sports fan, and while I like to listen to baseball games now and then, I dislike a steady diet of them. I had looked forward to this vacation to catch up on some long delayed pleasure reading. My father-in-law turned on all the baseball games without asking whether they would bother anyone else in the room. I took it for a week, but I balked when he added football games. He and his wife accused me of being a poor host. They said that we, by inviting them, had in effect turned over the use of our home to them. I said that their manners were poor, and I would no more turn on a baseball game without asking them than sit down and start reading aloud in their presence without permission. There was a scene and they left in a huff. Who was right?

POOR HOST

DEAR HOST: There is more than one way to skin a cat. You apparently chose the most painful method. You were right. But you could have set them straight in a more diplomatic manner.

DEAR ABBY: Here's the situation: The girl is 24 and the man is 27. They went steady for two years and have been engaged for the last three years. They are always arguing and he has even hit her a couple of times, but they always make up. He criticizes the way she wears her hair, the way she puts on her make-up, how she dresses and spends her money. He has all kinds of excuses for not getting married. They both have good jobs and lots of other couples have made it on less. What can be done about a relationship that seems to be going nowhere?

THE GIRL

DEAR GIRL: I think the faster this relationship gets "nowhere," the better off you both will be. Lovers who fight constantly during courtship usually battle forever after if they marry. Throw in the towel before he wins by a technical knock-out.

CONFIDENTIAL TO HOWARD: To avoid those "Blue Mondays" try going to church on Sundays.

Clark, Rice Head Volunteer Committee for Johnson-Humphrey-Blatt

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., and John S. Rice, former ambassador to the Netherlands and one-time secretary of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, have been named co-chairmen of Volunteers For Johnson-Humphrey-Blatt.

Miss Blatt, Pennsylvania secretary of internal affairs is the Democratic candidate for the U.S. Senate opposing Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., who is seeking reelection.

The appointment of Clark and Rice was announced Thursday by John M. Bailey, Democratic national chairman, and Otis B. Morse, Pennsylvania State Democratic chairman.

Bailey and Morse said in a joint statement:

"We are confident that the leadership of Sen. Clark and Colonel Rice for Volunteers for Johnson-Humphrey-Blatt will effectively assist in the mobilization of voters who will work for a great victory in November for President Johnson, vice presidential candidate Hubert H. Humphrey and Senate candidate Genevieve Blatt."

Scranton Says Republican Legislature 'Essential'

CLEARFIELD, Pa. (AP)—A Republican legislature is essential if Pennsylvania's progress is to be maintained, says Gov. Scranton.

"Only with a Republican legislature in 1965 can we continue to make progress," he said Thursday night at a dinner for GOP party members from Clearfield, Elk and Cameron Counties.

This was the Republican governor's first of a series of campaign appearances in a special drive to preserve the Republican majority in the State House and Senate.

He said progress is being made in the fields of employment, education, highway construction, human services and honest and progressive government.

"But Democrats would like to control the legislature simply to oppose this progress blindly and without regard for the future of our state," he told the audience of about 2,500.

Scranton cited some examples where he said his administration was of value to the citizens of the three-county area.

Jobs and Industrial development—Scranton said that since he took office in January 1963 there were 35 new plants or plant expansions in the area.

Education—Because of a program passed by the Republican legislature, state aid to schools in the area increased over 10 per cent, he said.

Highways—Total expenditures of the Highways Department climbed to over $5.1 million in the three counties since he took office, the governor said.

Turning to the presidential campaign, Scranton said that although he might not agree on every issue with the presidential candidate, Sen. Barry Goldwater, he does agree with the Arizona senator on the fundamental principals that Goldwater advocates.

Then speaking on foreign policy, Scranton said, "I am getting sick and tired of having high government officials telling us everything is fine in South Viet Nam when we know it isn't."

A busy schedule was on tap for Scranton today in Pittsburgh where he is to introduce Rep. William E. Miller, Republican vice presidential nominee, at a GOP rally.

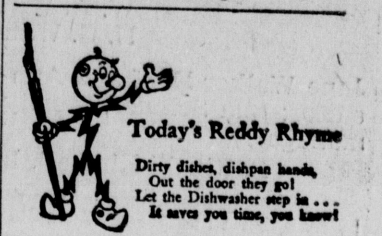

Before the evening rally, Scranton was to attend a Republican Finance Meeting in Pitts-

The Balance of Terror

WHAT EXACTLY was Premier Khrushchev doing when he rattled a fearsome sabre in the presence of a Japanese delegation in the Kremlin earlier this week?

Khrushchev intimated that Russia has now produced "the ultimate weapon"—the weapon that, at one blow, could depopulate the earth. Oddly enough, his sabre rattling was directed not at his traditional enemies in the West, but at his sometimes-allies in Communist China.

But most importantly the question comes up, was he lying? Does Soviet Russia possess the "ultimate weapon?" If it does, it would seem hardly likely that Khrushchev and Co. would be keeping it under a bushel. After all, Russia, until Karl Fuchs betrayed us, lived under the gun; the shadow of American nuclear weapons.

Now the United States was regrettably altruistic and gentlemanly about its atomic weapons. We did not use them to pistol-whip our enemies and allies into line, as we might well have done—and as some say, should have done. Russia, on the other hand, is possessed of no such scruples. At the risk of sounding snobbish, the Communists are not gentlemen. You don't steal an entire nation by observing the niceties of drawing room conduct.

So then, if Mr. Khrushchev has the ultimate weapon—and our scientists presume he is speaking of the awesome cobalt bomb, which the late Albert Einstein said could depopulate the earth—why is it that he's used its threat only against the Chinese? Does Russia fear China more than the West? And if that is the case, are we about to find ourselves possessed of a new ally, Soviet Russia?

THIS WOULD SEEM to be too good to be true. However, there remains the possibility that Russia's current attitude toward its Marxist cousins in China exists solely in the mind of the Chairman of the Supreme Soviet—Comrade Khrushchev. And it should be recalled that Khrushchev is not immortal.

The possibility that one nation could win a war at one blow—which Mr. Khrushchev is hinting—has long been a dream of the power mad. Through our long history, we have had one ultimate weapon after another. First came dynamite and the other fearful inventions of the Swedish scientist Alfred Nobel. He truly believed that by inventing cordite and other explosives he had made war "too frightful" to be endured. He soon learned that he was wrong in underestimating his fellowman's capacity for terrorism. The machine gun was believed to be the ultimate weapon—it surely ended cavalry as an effective arm of armies—and then, poison gas. None of these, in the long run, were able to deter man from a suicidal impulse. Not even the nuclear weapons born at Hiroshima have really changed the basic patterns of certain psychotic types.

So it is too much to expect that any nation which did possess a weapon like the cobalt bomb could long resist the impulse, no matter how suicidal, of at least brandishing it in negotiation. And from brandishing a weapon, we have only a short step to using it. The very fact that to use it might well destroy the aggressor nation as well is hardly a deterrent. The same impulse which causes some of us to touch "wet paint" signs, would be at work.

Another factor which should be considered is a side effect—probably calculated, since Khrushchev is no fool—on the American presidential campaign. Mr. K does not like Sen. Goldwater. He would prefer to see Mr. Johnson elected. As he has done before, he might be dropping a hint to the man he prefers. The Democratic campaign ads on TV already are geared to the theme that Goldwater's election could mean nuclear war. Mr. Khrushchev is simply stepping up the intensity.

So taken all in all, we suggest that this "new weapon" which Mr. Khrushchev has hinted still lies in the realm of wishful oratory.

At least, we hope it does...

Editorial Viewpoints Of Other Leading Area Newspapers

Both Russia and France have been adamant in their refusal to pay assessments for UN peace keeping operations in the Congo and the Near East. Russia alone owes nearly $54 million and France $16 million.

Efforts to find a way for settlement of the debts and avoid a showdown in the General Assembly have so far been unavailing. But the U.S. and other members are continuing their efforts to find a way out of the impasse.

Meanwhile, the U.S. has unveiled a proposal designed to prevent a repetition of the current situation in the future. It envisages creation of a new standing committee, including all permanent members of the Security Council, which would pass on all financial questions questions dealing with peace keeping operations, would make decisions by majority vote, and would levy assessments.

But why attempt to dilute or weaken Article 19 just to appease the Soviet Union and a few other deadbeats? Why expect these chiselers to pay any more attention to decisions of a standing committee than they do to the present charter methods of making assessments?

There's nothing to indicate anything will be gained by appeasement. So why not just leave Article 19 as it is—and enforce it? Let the deadbeats pay up, or be shut up.

—Oil City Derrick

A black eye, a bruise and a few chipped teeth are the only evidence that 39-year-old Bill Johnson of Pueblo, Colorado has to show for his narrow brush with death.

He's alive today to tell about a head-on collision with another car and explain how he managed to survive.

One night earlier this year he was traveling at about 50 miles per hour in the left lane of a Pueblo freeway.

Suddenly he saw headlights coming directly at him—a car, traveling the wrong direction on the high speed road. Trapped by another car on his right and a bridge on his left, he had no choice but to continue straight ahead—directly toward the oncoming headlights.

There was a shattering crash. Johnson was knocked out for a few moments when his head lurched forward and hit the steering wheel. But his body was restrained by a seat belt.

The driver of the other car? She died instantly when the impact lifted her up and sent her head crashing through the windshield.

Like Johnson, she had seat belts in her car. The difference between life and death in this case? Johnson had his seat belt fastened. The woman was sitting on them.

Drew Pearson: Washington Merry-Go-Round

King Paul's Sacrifice

(Editor's Note: Drew Pearson, an old friend of the Greek royal family has been invited to the wedding of King Constantine and Princess Anne-Marie as honored guest.)

ATHENS—There's a story of pathos and royal devotion behind the wedding of King Constantine of Greece and Princess Anne-Marie of Denmark.

The public will see a handsome young couple united in a beautiful ceremony in the first wedding in 65 years in which a reigning monarch has taken the daughter of a king as his wife.

And some of the public will look up at the stately Acropolis above Athens where democracy was founded, and marvel at the manner in which the world's oldest democracy now bows before a king.

But very few of the public will know what the father of this young king suffered to preserve that democracy and how his son helped him.

The tragedy dates back to last November, shortly after the Kennedy funeral, when King Paul learned he had cancer. Dr. Spyros Doxiades, the court physician, advised an immediate operation, said there was a chance to save the king's life. Otherwise there was no chance. But Paul refused. He believed that if he were operated on just before the election it would create a crisis atmosphere, influence the electorate and probably cause a move to the right.

It so happened that George Papandreou, long a critic of the king, was challenging a conservative government friendly to the king. Any crisis atmosphere in Greece would have hurt Papandreou, the king's critic, helped the king's conservative friends.

Nevertheless, King Paul insisted that his operation be postponed until after the election, though Dr. Doxiades kept urging an immediate operation if the king's life were to be saved.

By this time the king was suffering increasing pain. And Prince Constantine, who was extremely close to his father, watched him gradually weaken and wither away when he knew an operation might save his life.

Finally the elections were held. Papandreou, the king's critic, won. Still King Paul postponed the operation. He wanted to wait until the new government was sworn in. By that time he was too weak for a formal ceremony, and was propped up against the piano while the cabinet stood before him to take the oath of office.

Only then did the operation take place. It was too late. The king died March 6. "Now," said Queen Frederika to Constantine, "you will show whether you have kingship in you, my son."

Those were trying days for the new king, then only 23 years old. He and his father had been great pals, and his mother confided that for weeks Constantine cried out in his sleep for his father.

But Paul had trained Constantine carefully. Last June the young monarch told me how his father would seat him in the corner during court audiences to train him in the job of being king. The training served him well.

Last December, during the early stage of the Cyprus crisis, Constantine had to act as prince regent for his father. There were emergency meetings in the middle of the night. The chiefs of staff, the caretaker government, the leaders of different political parties were present. The transcript of the meetings subsequently showed that when the sessions got acrimonious, Constantine would say, "Well, gentlemen, let's have a drink," or "Do you think it's time we had a sandwich?"

Or he would summarize the meeting: "It seems to me that there has been general agreement on these points. The points of dissent are the following. Let's concentrate on them."

The most amazing achievement of King Constantine during his short reign has been to win over the inveterate king-critic, Premier Papandreou. The prime minister, aged 76, and the king, aged 23, have now become close friends. The king calls him at all hours of the day, and Constantine, like Lyndon Johnson, is a man who uses the telephone. He's left orders that his staff can wake him at any hour of the night.

The king is very devout, and during Easter week attended church twice a day. He doesn't stand on ceremony, and when I interviewed him last June, he joked about his formal court attire which he said was necessitated by some palace chores. He had just received the credentials of a foreign ambassador.

Driving to the Tatoy Palace one Saturday, the king barely escaped hitting a 69-year-old deaf man, weaving his way through traffic, who stepped in front of the police car which was escorting the king. The king stopped and took the man to a hospital despite the advice of his aide that the incident would bring bad publicity.

"I don't care," replied Constantine. "It was one of my cars that hit him."

So the king sat at the old man's bedside and made sure he was comfortable.

Following the royal honeymoon, Constantine will get back to the job of being a king. It's more complicated than just sitting on a golden throne. He will visit every one of Greece's 52 counties—one county per day—to introduce his new queen. This will be part of the job of getting to know the country thoroughly while his country gets to know him. He will study the economic, agricultural, and cultural problems of every county.

He will spend two months each in Salonika, the thriving capital of Macedonia, and one month each year in Epirus, in northern Greece.

That's the schedule laid down for the young man who has taken over the throne in the oldest democracy in the world and who wants to keep that county democratic.

John Chamberlain: These Days

The Double Standard Again

It's time to talk about the double standard in social and political criticism again.

I'm assuming, from what I've read in the papers, that Robert Welch, the founder of the John Birch Society, actually called Ike Eisenhower a part of the Communist conspiracy. Knowing that such a view of Ike is completely indefensible, Barry Goldwater, long before he became the Republican nominee for President, told the Birchers that they had better get themselves a new leader.

Goldwater's clear dissociation of himself from Robert Welch's views, however, has never gotten through to the liberals. They are still insisting that the Republicans must repudiate the Birch Society as "extremists."

Well, let us assume for the sake of argument that the Birchers must suffer for their association with a leader who said a nasty thing about a beloved ex-President. No doubt there is a certain rough justice in attacking an organization that puts up with an officer who is intemperate in his language. But, by the same token, the liberals should now be demanding that the Democratic Party disown the support of George Meany's AFL-CIO, the Reverend Martin Luther King's Southern Christian Leadership Conference, and the Arkansas political machine that keeps returning William J. Fulbright to the U.S. Senate. For George Meany, Martin Luther King and Senator Fulbright have all uttered libels in recent days on Goldwater and the Republicans that absolutely identical in quality and spirit with Robert Welch's alleged condemnation of Ike Eisenhower.

Meany, speaking to the lithographers and photoengravers in New York City, said there was a "parallel" between the rise of Goldwater and that of Adolf Hitler—meaning that Goldwater was moving his country and party toward Fascism. Martin Luther King, talking to Germans in Berlin, said he saw "danger signs of Hitlerism" in Goldwater's candidacy. And Senator Fulbright, in Washington, called Barry Goldwater's Republicanism "the closest thing in American politics to Russian Stalinism."

To put it conservatively, this is the dirtiest sort of political pool. If it is wrong for Robert Welch to imply that Eisenhower, is a Communist, it is just as reprehensible for Meany and Martin Luther King to insinuate that Goldwater is a Fascist. And it is even more reprehensible for Senator Fulbright to liken Republicans of any hue to Stalinists, for Fulbright has had the benefit of a double-dome education and was once head of a college.

To substantiate the charges of Fascism Meany and Martin Luther King should be asked to cite the instances where Goldwater has ever advocated such things as dictatorships, or a one-party state, or storm troopers, or concentration camps, or murdering Jews or half-Jews. And where can Fulbright find any Republicans who would be willing to hire a gangster to poleaxe Lyndon Johnson as the Stalinists did to get rid of Leon Trotsky? If they lack proof that Goldwater has ever favored any Fascist or Stalinist methods or ends, Meany, Martin Luther King and Senator Fulbright should be declared by the liberals to be precisely on all-fours with Robert Welch of the John Birch Society. And, if followers are to be tarred by the behavior of their leaders, the Democratic Party should be called upon to cast the AFL-CIO, the Southern Christian Leadership Conference and Fulbright's Arkansas machine into outer darkness along with the Ku Klux Klan.

Of course, it might be said that Meany, Martin Luther King and Senator Fulbright were only guilty of campaign oratory. But if we are going to be lenient about political idiocies, the same benevolent dispensation should be accorded to everybody, even a John Birchier.

When it comes right down to it, it is whistling in the dark to expect liberals to repudiate their double standard of criticism. What our liberal society seems to have lost, probably irrevocably, is the ability to make distinctions. If it is stupid for Robert Welch to think Eisenhower is a Communist, it is equally stupid for liberals to think that Khrushchev favors co-existence as anything more than a tactic. Is it "co-existence" to spray a member of a foreign embassy staff in Moscow with mustard gas because he has discovered wiretap devices in the embassy building? Has any modern-day liberal asked the question?

Article 19 of the United Nations Charter provides that any member nation two years or more in arrears on payment of dues and assessments may be deprived of its voting rights in the General Assembly.

Application of this provision of the charter to a few nations, particularly Soviet Russia and France, will be in order during the next session of the General Assembly scheduled to begin in November.

Of the many flowers brought to The Times-Mirror over a period of years, one of the most unusual is on display there at present, an immense cactus bloom from the greenhouse at the home of Miss Esther and Miss Margaret Newbold, near Irvine. The plant itself winds around inside the conservatory for a distance of about 30 feet, and the flower is at least 15 inches in length. Full bloom is attained only at night.

Along B'way With Dottie

John Gielgud will be the first important actor to read the new Edward Albee play, "Tiny Alice," which is still being written. If Sir John uses it, he may star in it . . . Carol Burnett would do the chorus kids in "Fade Out—Fade In" a big favor if she'd squash the rumors that she's quitting the show. Some of them are extremely depressed over the report, because they know that if she leaves, there isn't a replacement on earth who could "carry" the musical as she does . . . Red Buttons has added something to his nightclub act: An impassioned plea to the audience to vote for President Johnson in the November elections . . . Richard Burton stands to make almost $1,000,000 out of the film version of "Hamlet" which was done as an ordinary performance at the Lunt-Fontanne Theatre. Sales throughout the nation—in more than 500 cities—are zooming . . . And to demonstrate how "hot" Richard is in show business, one of the networks is willing to pay him a million dollars to act as host of a dramatic series next year.

Sheilah MacRae's impersonation of Barbara Streisand—something new in the Gordon-Shellah act—is just about the most devastating mimicry she's ever done, and that includes her Gabou bit, which almost caused a lawsuit . . . The odds on Barry Goldwater, which opened at eight to one but dropped to four to one after the riots, are back to eight to one again and are expected to go higher as the campaign continues . . . Some midwestern books are reported offering even money that you can't name five states he'll carry. Not just five states, understand—you have to pick the right ones.

Goodson-Todman executive Bob Bach came with an idea that ought to put a million or two in the LBJ campaign coffers: a record of Carol Channing AND Louis Armstrong duetting on "Hello, Lyndon," with the disc selling for one dollar . . . The Upstate racetrack license scandal is going to make a lot of headlines and lead to high places before it cools off . . .

Despite good business, the Chicago production of "Funny Thing" is having problems because of personality clashes. Arnold Stang is due to return to New York at the end of the month, even though he received rave reviews . . . One of the recurring themes in President Johnson's election pitch will be the "trigger-happy" labeling of Sen. Goldwater. This is designed to grab the women's vote, because women don't like to see their husbands, sons or sweethearts go to war, and are reliably reported as not too keen on the kind of nuclear bombing the various heads of state are playing around with.

Broadway Guessing Game: An actor famous for more than his acting obviously is bothered by a heavy problem. He seems to have everything in the world to make a chap happy, but he keeps popping out cold drunk on restaurant floors, dazed and incoherent and sometimes in his bare feet . . . A recently married show business pair chalked up their first battle the other night, and it was a beaut. They went to a party and she spent too much of the evening chatting with an old beau. The bridegroom burned quietly for a while, then exploded within earshot of several other guests.

Keeping Well . . .

HOSPITALS are in a revolutionary period. They are switching from reusable to disposable equipment. It is cheaper and safer to buy sterilized needles and plastic syringes, use them once, and throw them away.

The more substantial glass syringes can be used indefinitely but must be sterilized after each injection. This labor cost can be saved with disposable items. In addition, the manufacturer guarantees absolute sterility of the articles, and the needles are sharper because they never have been used.

A paper-mache, sterilized bedpan costs 4 cents. Ordinary bedpans are more expensive and so is cleaning and sterilizing them after each use. Disposable urinals also are available.

The same can be said of nurse and maid's caps, collars, cuffs, aprons, and gowns; there is no laundry expense. Chicago Wesley Memorial hospital uses 50 to 75 disposable items, including syringes, needles, surgical gloves, intravenous and blood transfusion tubes and setups, and many other materials.

Acquiring an adequate supply of these items is expensive. In addition, drastic changes in hospital design will be required. A two-month supply of paper-mache bedpans and urinals for an 18-bed ward, for example, needs 144 cubic feet of space. Another necessity is incineration for disposing of these disposals.

On the other hand, a formula room in the nursery no longer will be needed, because some hospitals now purchase commercially prepared formulas in disposable bottles with nipples. Dishwashing space may be reduced because dishes may be discarded after use.

Donald K. White of London believes one hour per week of nursing time per patient is saved by employing disposable materials. When this plan becomes general, all products will be standardized and available at a moment's notice.

R. F. S. writes: What is hyaline membrane disease?

REPLY — A congenital disorder in which the inner lining of the bronchi and the air sacs is covered with a sticky membrane. This prevents oxygen from entering and carbon dioxide from leaving the lungs. Most infants with this disorder do not survive, especially when it is extensive.

Mrs. W. writes: Is the cause of Meniere's disease known? I'm 44 and never have had ear trouble before. Now I have buzzing, dizziness and nausea.

REPLY — The exact cause is not known, except that there is swelling of the labyrinth of the inner ear. Send stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on Meniere's disease.

Mrs. B. writes: Could a sudden change in altitude from low to high bring on a depression?

REPLY — Mountain sickness may disturb mental function but does not cause depression. After all, if he goes from low to a high altitude, he should be high and not low.

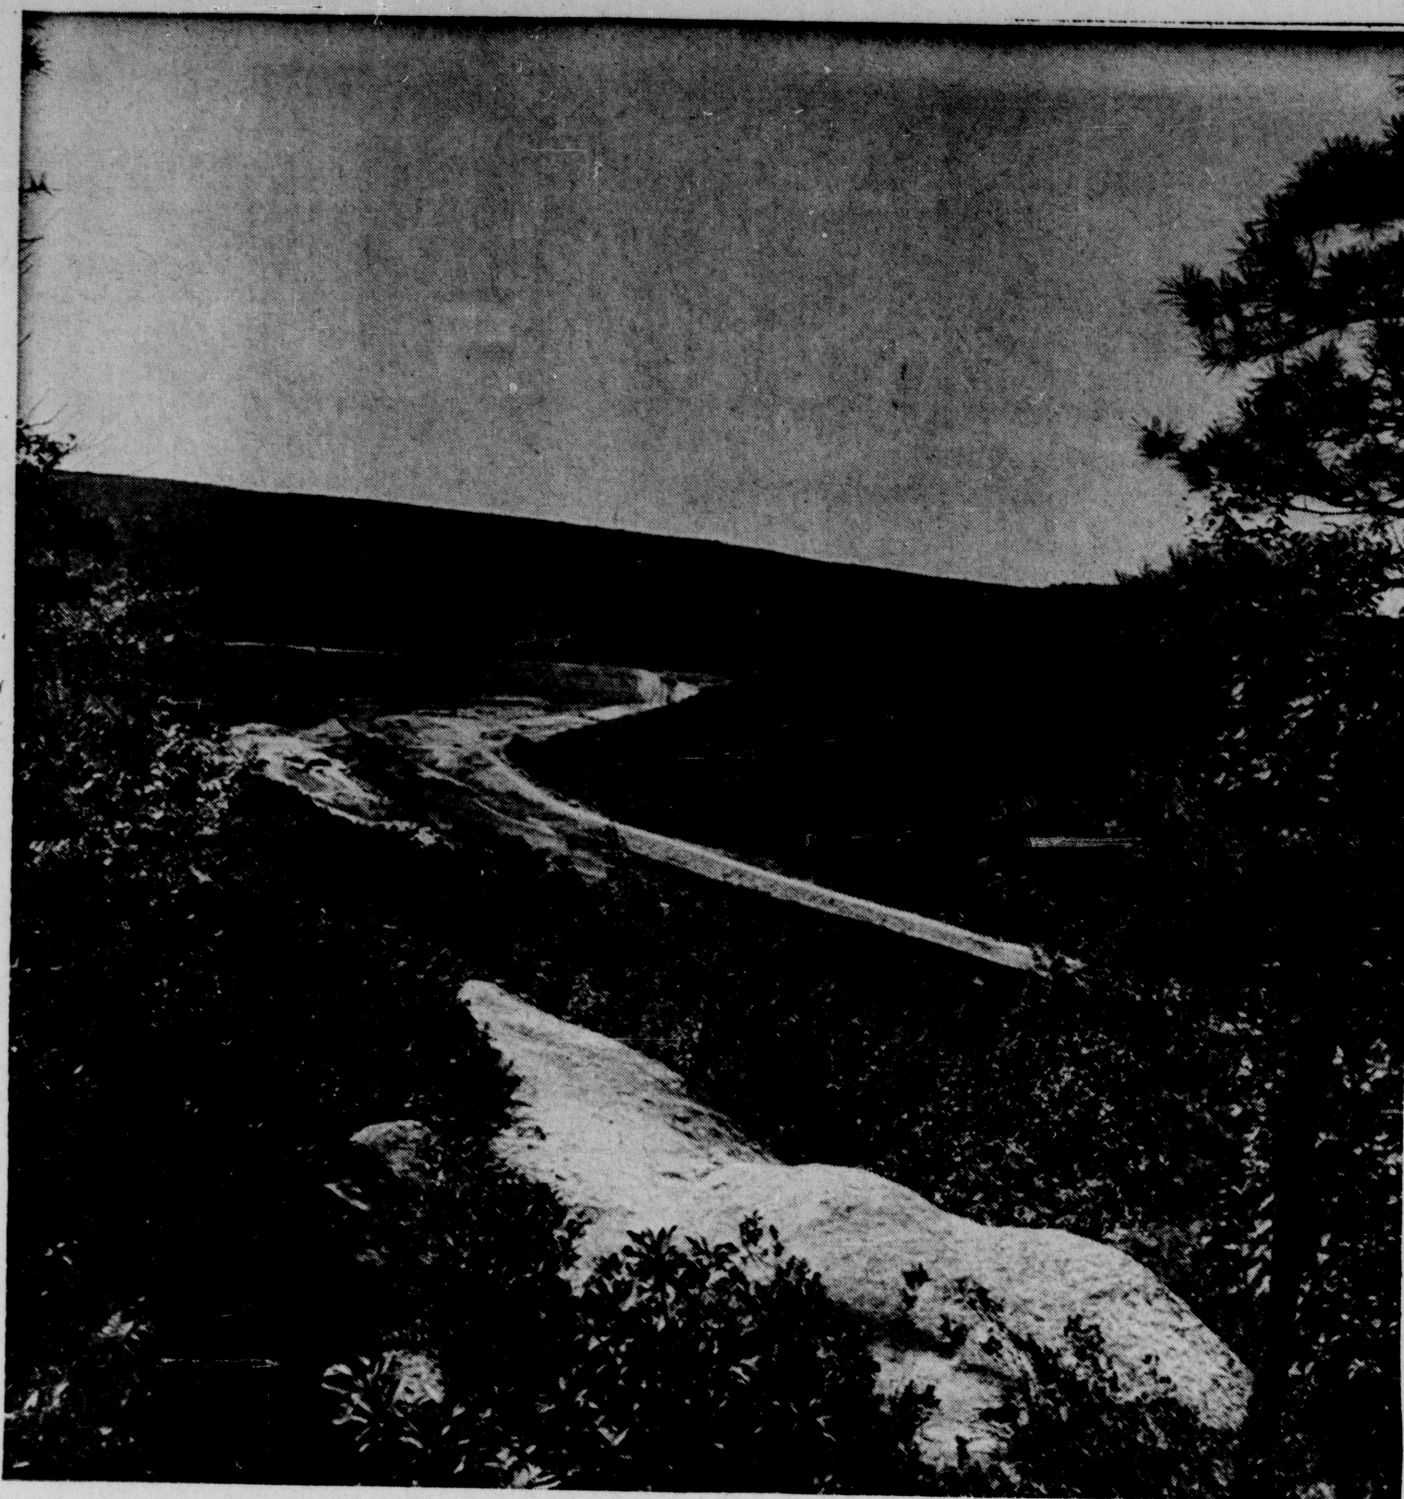

Y. F. writes: Can repeated sties damage eyesight?

REPLY — Not as a rule. On the other hand, recurring sties may mean visual defects that could be corrected with glasses.

A. S. writes: What is the cause of an abscessed tooth?

REPLY — Infection of the tissues surrounding the root of the tooth.

THE OVERLOOK — The view of the Allegheny Valley above the Kinzua Dam, as seen from Jake's Rocks, is breathtaking. At the bottom of the long sweep of the river lies the dam itself. The portion in the middle ground will be filling with water a year

Rochester, Minn., and the Mayos

ROCHESTER, Minn. (AP) — Some towns are built on a mining industry, some on steel, some on lumber. Rochester is built on doctors.

If you walked the streets of this southern Minnesota city, and could count on meeting a cross-section of its population, every forty-fifth person would be a physician.

Rochester is the home of the Mayo Clinic, which this year will mark its 100th birthday.

The clinic has become a magnet for the famous — and for persons wanting top medical diagnosis or with ailments that have baffled their local doctors.

Kings and queens, heads of state, persons prominent in the entertainment, sports and business worlds are such frequent patients at Mayo's that their presence creates little stir in this town of 45,000.

So are people with uncommon troubles — malfunctioning hearts, rare eye disorders, torn limbs they hope to save from amputation.

The clinic takes them all — nearly 2,600,000 to date.

While it shuns publicity and protects its patients' privacy, the clinic is marking its centennial with more than 50 scientific meetings.

Wooded Hills flanks Rochester, a gateway to typical farming country nearby, but there is no mistaking that Rochester grew on and for the clinic.

It began in 1864 when a native of Manchester, England, Dr. William Worrall Mayo, came to the then hamlet of 3,000 and began practice.

Two sons, William James and Charles Horace, became doctors and began to practice with their father. After he died, Dr. Will and Dr. Charlie, as they were known, took on three other doctors in what came to be known informally as the Mayo Clinic.

By 1914 they had their own building — a two-story red brick structure that still stands in contrast to the two Mayo skyscrapers, and serves as a laboratory.

The clinic grew in scope and reputation. Its first large building, a 15-story structure of tan Italian marble, topped by a six-story bell tower, was completed in 1939. Two other buildings have since joined it. Clinic hospital patients are treated chiefly in two large Rochester hospitals, separately owned but working closely with the clinic.

Dr. Will and Dr. Charlie died within a few months of each other in 1939.

Dr. Charles W. Mayo, son of Charles H., formally retired from the clinic and as chairman of its board last October, at 65.

The Mayo name is carried on at the clinic by his son, an intern. Dr. Charles H. Mayo II, 33, represents the fourth generation of Mayos at the clinic.

The clinic has a professional staff of 400 doctors, and 600 more, including 50 from abroad, studying under its fellowship program.

Two Mayo doctors, Edward C. Kendall and Philip S. Hench, won a Nobel Prize in 1950 for their work with cortisone.

A special stamp, to go on sale in Rochester today, will honor these and other Mayo achievements in its centennial.

Hyannis Port Looks Much the Same

By CORNELIUS F. HURLEY

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (AP) — Nothing is changed— outwardly—in this seaside summer resort.

The white shingled cottages gleam in the bright sun. The beaches are sandy, and the sun glitters on the blue waters of Nantucket Sound.

For three years, this was the site of the summer White House when John F. Kennedy was president of the United States.

When he was on Cape Cod for weekends, the Kennedy compound of summer homes, those of former Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy, the President's, and Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy's, were objects for tourists, but most of them didn't get to see it.

Since last November, when the President was assassinated, it has become even more of an attraction.

It began on the Memorial Day weekend. Hundreds of cars, and even busloads of tourists headed for Hyannis Port—their passengers hoping for a look at "his" house.

After that monumental traffic jam, the town police got tougher.

They retained the command post boxes which the Secret Service had set up at strategic corners a block or so away from the compound, and simply directed traffic away from the area.

That has been the rule all summer. Irving Avenue, which runs along beside the late president's home, still is barred to auto traffic, and to pedestrians, too, unless they are residents.

Town Police Chief Albert L. Hinckley had cut his special presidential police force from 16 men to eight for this year.

"It wasn't enough," he said. "I'm going to have to ask for the full 16 men again for next summer."

In the past people came to Hyannis Port hoping to see a president.

"Now it's like a pilgrimage," he said. "They just want to stand there and look."

Some of the devout go to St. Francis Xavier Roman Catholic church in nearby Hyannis, where the President attended Mass on Sundays during his Cape Cod weekends. Many of them know he customarily sat in the second pew, left, in a side wing of the church. Most of them just look, say a prayer, and then leave.

Here She Is! Miss America!

WASHINGTON—Every year we vow never to watch the "Miss America" show on television again, and every year we seem to get sucked in. Last Saturday evening we tried to keep the vow, but as 10 o'clock rolled around we said to our wife, "I'll just watch it for a few moments, and then we'll turn it off."

Two hours later we were still staring at the set, watching one of the dullest shows put on the air this year. Since it came from Atlantic City, the thought occurred to us that you could probably make the "Miss America" show much more interesting if you could cover it like a political convention.

"Good evening, ladies and gentlemen. This is Bert Parks speaking to you from the anchor booth here in Atlantic City where in a few hours Miss America will be elected. Let's go down to the floor now where I see Sandy Vanocur talking to Miss Alaska."

"Miss Alaska, there's a rumor that a deal has been made between you and Miss Texas, and you're going to throw your votes to her in exchange for being made Miss Rheingold of 1965."

"I haven't made any deals with Miss Texas or anyone else. I'm in this to the bitter end. I'm Alaska's favorite daughter and we're holding fast."

"Thank you. Now back to Bert Parks in the booth."

"We've just had a bulletin that Miss New York has accused Miss Arizona of seeking support of the extremist group here at the convention, who advocate the use of bikinis against Miss Russia in the Miss Universe contest. Let's see if Frank McGee has some more information on this."

"Bert, I've been talking to Miss New York and she says if Miss Arizona support a bikini suit she's going to walk out."

"What does Miss Arizona have to say about this?" "She says she was misquoted by the press and she's going to write a book to straighten the record."

"What's happening on the floor now?"

"There's a spontaneous demonstration against Miss California because she lives in Virginia and works in Washington."

"What's happening over there in Massachusetts?"

"Miss Massachusetts has decided to run as Miss New York and the New York delegates are up in arms."

"Stay with her, Frank. Now let's go over to the Minnesota delegation and hear from Miss Minnesota."

"Miss Minnesota, Miss Arizona has cited certain statistics about your back that you have put you in a bad light. What have you got to say about this?"

"I was hoping the backlash issue would be kept out of this campaign. I'm willing to stand on my statistics, back and front."

"Thank you. Now back to Bert Parks."

"Thank you, Roger. I think Miss Texas is being interviewed now."

"Ah think we should have a strong Miss America, a Miss America of all the people, rich and poor, a Miss America who wields her power with moderation and understanding, a Miss America who will not use the awesome weapons at her disposal for anything but peace. Let us begin."

James Marlow's World Today

Behind K's New Threat

WASHINGTON (AP)—Soviet Premier Khrushchev possesses a notable power to agitate and alarm the Western allies. He needs only to issue a murky claim to the invention of some monstrous new weapon to set off a vast search for clues that could throw light on his dark secret. Whether he similarly arouses the apprehensions of the Chinese Communists is a question.

The conflict between two closed system like those of the Soviet Union and Red China, where whole peoples exist in such secrecy as their leaders decree, is different from a conflict between the Soviet Union and the Western allies.

In the West, interested citizens join in open discussion of foreign policy issues. Their leaders are more or less responsive to demands for information. Even Khrushchev has sometimes shown a talkative awareness of public opinion in the Western countries.

The most fateful confrontation of powers since the U.S.-Soviet showdown over Cuba in October 1962 now seems to be building up between the Soviet Union and Communist China. But so little is known outside their two ruling groups about the real nature and extent of this quarrel that its future course and possible flash point are extremely difficult to chart.

Much more would be known in the outside world if Khrushchev and the Red Chinese leader, Mao Tze-tung, felt any compulsion to keep their own people closely informed. Their practice, however, throughout the five years the conflict has been growing, has been to employ public pronouncement only as weapons in the fight.

Much of the struggle, therefore, is for practical purposes secret and even the impact and significance of those moves which are made in the open are extremely difficult for the rest of the world to measure. So it is with the maneuver made this week by Khrushchev, although in the judgment of many Washington officials his words had a warlike ring.

Speaking to a Japanese parliamentary delegation, Khrushchev attacked Chinese claims to 500,000 square miles of Soviet territory. He said Soviet borders are sacred, and he asserted that the Soviet Union has developed a new weapon capable of wiping out life on earth.

His statement instantly raised the question whether the Soviet Union has gained a jump on the United States in the perfection of some instrument of mass destruction — a cobalt bomb, a bigger hydrogen bomb, or some kind of mysterious new weapon like a massive death ray device.

American officials familiar with military and diplomatic intelligence on affairs in the Soviet Union say there are speculative possibilities but that to the best of their knowledge the Russian have not produced any fantastic new weapon. They concede, however, that prudence requires the United States now to find out whether Khrushchev meant literally what he said.

But Khrushchev's weapon brandishing remark was not aimed as a threat against this or any other Western country and in view of experts here an exclusive preoccupation with the weapons angle would obscure its real significance.

Of critical importance, in the view of U. S. officials, is the fact that for the first time, so far as they could recall, Khrushchev has implicitly threatened his Chinese neighbors — still technically his allies — with massive destruction if they ever start encroaching on Soviet territory.

Many Features Scheduled By PTA in Youngsville

YOUNGSVILLE—Open house will be observed at the meeting of Elementary School PTA on Monday evening. Parents and friends, whether or not they are PTA members, are invited to visit the classrooms and meet the teachers between 7:30 and 8 p.m.

THE FIRST business session of the new school year will begin at 8 in the all-purpose room. Coincidentally with the meeting, the annual membership drive will be launched and there will be a display in the window of the Pennsylvania Bank and Trust Co. office, E. Main St., depicting the PTA speller of concern.

The program prepared for this meeting and the rest of the year's activities will be closely geared to matters of local concern, a spokesman said. The school music program, the patrol system and safety education will be among topics presented on Monday. Later meetings will focus attention on the elementary school library program and special education areas.

ALL OF the staff at Youngsville Elementary School, including new members and student teachers, will be honored guests at this first session. A special guest will be Dale F. J. Walker, field representative of the human relations commission of the Pennsylvania Department of Labor and Industry.

He has a background of 18 years in industrial personnel work, as well as YMCA community secretary service in Tarentum, and as director of youth activities at Richland Youth Foundation in Gibsonia.

He will come from Pittsburgh to discuss civil rights history and legislation in Pennsylvania, and the state's intergroup education program developed in cooperation with the Department of Public Instruction. This address is in line with the aims of PTA to help create an informed public opinion in areas relating to the welfare of youth, it is stated.

SEVERAL new features are planned for the local PTA operation. They include a room mother's committee and additions to room attendance awards incentives. These will be explained at the meeting.

A committee of mothers of fifth grade students will serve refreshments. They are Mrs. Waide O. Ingols, Mrs. A. Hollobaugh, Mrs. G. Walter and Mrs. S. Dunham.

ELECTED officers for the year are Mrs. M. D. Rhodes, president; Mrs. John Papalia, vice president and program chairman; Miss Judy Morando, secretary; Mrs. Robert Dale, treasurer.

Appointments include Mrs. Kenneth O. Dininny and Mrs. Douglas Peterson, ways and means committee; Mrs. William C. Wilbert, hospitality;

Mrs. Steven Zock, membership. Mrs. Mary Lou McKinney and Mrs. Suzanne Waddell will be representatives to the County Council.

IN A LETTER being sent this week to all parents of children attending Youngsville Elementary School, Mrs. Zock explained the 50-cent membership fee also covers enrollment in the Youngsville High School PTA. She asks for a record enrollment and for strong turnouts at meetings. The membership drive will run until Sept. 25.

Meetings will be conducted on the third Monday in November, February, March and May. The February meeting will be a Founders' Day observance, planned jointly with other PTA's in the Brokenstraw Valley School District.

Deadline on Reservations Set for Couples' Club

Couples' Club members of St. Paul's Lutheran Church have been asked to make reservations no later than Monday if they plan to attend the dinner at Dach's Inn at Red House, N. Y., on Sept. 26. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Benson are making the arrangements and reservations may be made with them, with the James Beckers or the Richard Hauses.

PREACHING in St. Paul's services at 8:30 and 11 a. m. Sunday, the Rev. Carl Nelson will use the subject "The Responsibility of Freedom." Elmer Bloom will give a Temple Talk, also. In the late service, Charlotte Erickson will direct Senior Choir in "Sing To the Lord, Our Might" by Mendelssohn.

At 6 p. m., Luther League will have a Hootenanny at the church.

Circles will meet Tuesday: 9 a. m., Deborah members with Violet Borg, 104 Lincoln Ave. 1

Central Union Hears Reports

Miss Margaret Douglass presented five study books chosen for the new year when Central WCTU members had their September meeting in Dunham Parlor of First Methodist Church.

Mrs. Francis Hetrick opened the session with prayer and Mrs. William Muir presented devotions on the theme "Laborers Together." Mrs. Carl Lindquist sang a solo, accompanied by Mrs. John McInturff, and Mrs. John Trauffer led in prayer.

The recent convention sessions of Warren County WCTU in Youngsville EUB Church were reviewed. Mrs. John Maines reported on institute, Mrs. McInturff on White Ribbon Recruits, and Miss Edith Langdale on parliamentary law.

Routine reports were read by Mrs. Ray Brownell and Miss Nellie McVinch. Cards were signed for shut-ins and the flower mission report of Mrs. Alice Fox was read.

FOE Auxiliary Picnics Sunday

President Clara Sikstrom conducted the Tuesday evening meeting of Eagles' Auxiliary, when arrangements were completed for a picnic on Sunday at the home of Mrs. John Anderson in Jamestown, N. Y.

All those planning to attend the affair were asked to bring a turban, rolls, butter and table service. Husbands and escorts are invited, also. Anyone who needs transportation is asked to be at the clubrooms no later than 12:30 p.m.

Final plans were made, also, for a "garage" rummage sale and bazaar at 16 Prospect St. Sept. 25 and 26.

It was announced the next regular meeting of the group will be at 8 p.m. Oct. 6.

St. Paul's Has Second Fund Appeal

St. Paul's Lutheran Church has announced it is planning a new three-year Building Fund Appeal to be conducted during the week of Sept. 27 through October 4.

Church officials said the appeal will be under the direction of E. F. MacMillen of the MacMillen Fund Appeal Service of St. Paul, Minn., who directed the last campaign three years ago.

TO DATE, a spokesman said, approximately $62,000 has been realized from the first appeal campaign. The anticipated financial need for a new church building in a different location is $280,000 and officials hope to receive pledges for at least one-third of this amount or about $90,000 to be given in the next three-year period.

A brochure, "Forward in Faith," has been mailed to all members of the congregation this past week, setting forth the above information.

SERVING as general chairman is Jack Mader, with Elmer Bloom on publicity; James Becker, visitation; Howard Ford with Harry W. Johnson, resources chairman; Melbourne Karlson, advance pledges chairman; Russell Thelin with Todd Albaugh, prayer chairman; Mrs. Harold Ristau with Mrs. Everett Borg, hostess chairman.

Important dates listed for the congregation to remember are: Oct. 1, loyalty dinner in Warren Area High School cafeteria; Oct. 3, 12-hour prayer vigil in St. Paul's Church; Oct. 4, Loyalty Sunday, when visitors will be commissioned and sent out to all homes of the congregation for their pledges to the Building Fund Appeal.

CHANGE PLANS Martha Society of Emanuel United Church of Christ will meet at 8 p.m. Monday at the home of Mrs. Helen Brooks, 7 Jackson Ave., instead of the previously announced location. Mrs. Fred Fuhrer will lead devotions.

TREASURE

What are your treasures? Where are they hidden? Which do you love most, God, or gold? Are you more interested in the work of His church or in the production of your mine? Do you get more pleasure from helping people or from hoarding wealth? What is the power of yellow metal? What is the hidden lure of riches that makes a man rise to the bait and be caught on the hook of destruction? Don't let this deadly paralysis seize you. Twenty of the world's richest men met in Chicago. All of them died poor men and most of their careers came to a tragic end. The real treasures are Heavenly treasures. Lay up a chest full where rust and thieves cannot break through to them.

The Ninety and Nine Were Safe; — But One!?

Your Forest Ranger

By L. E. STOTZ

Big trees fascinate most of us. Perhaps it's because we like to think big in this country. For this reason, Hearts Content and Tionesta Scenic Areas on the Allegheny National Forest attract an increasing number of visitors.

IF HEARTS Content is noted for its tall white pine trees, Tionesta Scenic Area can boast of its big hemlocks.

One visitor to the Tionesta Scenic Area, after contemplating a particularly big hemlock that reached 120 feet into the sky, said, "I'd like to climb to the top of that. It would be as close to heaven as I will ever get." Unconsciously perhaps, this great tree may have reminded her of the spire of a cathedral pointing skyward.

IF I WANTED to get closer to heaven than the ground I walk upon, I would choose the top of a redwood, a Douglas fir, or an Australian eucalyptus. The tallest of these may be well over 300 feet in height.

But it is not height alone that impresses people when they contemplate an individual tree of the forest. In a heavy stand of timber, the top of the tree may be lost to view in a maze of interlocking branches from neighboring trees. A massive trunk, though, is not easily forgotten—particularly if it takes a dozen men with hands locked together to encircle it.

When I visited the California redwoods, I wasn't impressed so much by their great height as I was by the immense trunks rising out of the needle-carpeted ground. These majestic pillars of wood seemed large enough to hold up the very arch of heaven. I could easily appreciate their great girth, but I lost my perspective when trying to estimate their height.

VISITORS from urban centers often express amazement at the tall clean trunks of the trees at Hearts Content and Tionesta Scenic Areas. Accustomed to shade trees at home that branch out in all directions, they fail to realize how the intense struggle for light in a mixed forest of virgin hardwoods and softwoods forces the trees upward to immense heights. The open-grown pampered shade trees at home have never had to battle for survival like their brothers of the deep forest.

If great height and tremendous girth in our old-growth timber fascinate visitors to the forest, they are even more interested in the age of individual trees. "How old is it?" is a favorite question.

WHEN A 3,500-year-old California sequoia was conceded to be the oldest living thing, its great age could be equated with tremendous height and girth. It was easy to assume that the bigger the tree, the older it must be.

The discovery in 1957 of a 4,600-year-old bristlecone pine in the arid White Mountains of the Inyo National Forest in California has demonstrated that bigness and great age do not always go together. This patriarch among forest trees did not exceed 30 feet in height. A 700-year-old bristlecone pine in the same area was only 3 feet high, and the diameter near the ground line was only 3 inches.

Perhaps trees, like people, live longest if they live frugally. The bristlecone pine perched on a barren calcareous rock outcropping, and favored by not more than 10 inches of rainfall a year, may add only an inch of diameter growth in a century. Like the slow-moving tortoise, it has learned to pace itself. By barely staying alive in an inhospitable environment, a bristlecone pine has achieved the distinction of being the oldest known living thing on earth.

New Network of Highways To Open Remote Parts of South America

By THOMAS J. STONE

LIMA, Peru (AP) — A proposed network of highways penetrating the heart of South America is expected to open up

Three Arkansas Highway Men Counterfeiters

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Three employees of the Arkansas Highway Department were charged today with making counterfeit currency in the state Capitol.

A fourth man, who worked for a transportation company, was charged with possessing phony bills.

Leroy Letteer, Secret Service special agent in charge here, said about 150 bills in ones and 10s had been recovered. He said the money had been distributed among the men, but said he did not know if any had been circulated.

The three department employees were reproduction technicians, and used state equipment in the counterfeiting, Letteer said.

Former Slave Dies at Age 111 In South Bend

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — Charlie Graham, who recalled carrying water at the age of 7 to fellow Negro slaves in Mississippi cotton fields, died Wednesday night at 111.

His philosophy included, "When you drink, don't drink with a crowd. When you're digging ditches, take your time."

Graham, a native of Tippah County, Miss., is survived by four sons, two daughters, 29 grandchildren and 56 great-grandchildren.

thousands of square miles of rich, unsettled jungle land to modern pioneers.

The roads, part of the South American marginal jungle highway system, are under construction or in the final planning stages in Colombia, Ecuador, Peru and Bolivia.

They will connect the four countries and cross the Andes to fertile, undeveloped lands on the eastern slopes of the Continental Divide.

When the 10-year project is completed, vehicles can go in a matter of hours to points that today require days of strenuous and dangerous travel.

Many South American capitals are modern and bustling, but because of a lack of roads the countries' interiors usually are backward and forgotten. Inaccessible regions hold tremendous wealth both above and below the surface.

One American engineer compares the road project with the extension of the railroads in the U.S. West a century ago.

Helping the countries finance the roads are the U.S. government, the Export-Import Bank and the Inter-American Development Bank.

Here is a rundown:

Colombia — A preliminary study is under way for a 1,856-mile section of the jungle highway. More than 900 miles will pass through unsettled country, considered excellent for development of livestock, lumber, fish, game and petroleum.

The Colombian government feels that thousands of families can settle on the rich lands.

Ecuador — Reconnaissance studies of the 500-mile stretch of the jungle highway are nearing completion. Twelve zones have been selected with a total of four million acres in which 68,000 families could be settled.

The highway will connect with the interoceanic project between Ecuador and Brazil, a road that would run from the port of San Lorenzo on the Pacific to Manaus, the Amazon River port in Brazil.

A new road between Quito, the inland capital, and Guayaquil, the big banana river port on the Pacific, reduces travel time from 18 to seven hours.

Peru — Construction is expected to start within a few months on the first paved highway across the Andes in the northern part of the country.

The 220-mile road is expected to cost $47 million.

Only 20 per cent of Peru's 22,320 miles of highway are paved.

Bolivia — The marginal jungle highway project for this landlocked country is still under study. The Bolivia section will be approximately 1,250 miles long and will start at Cobija in the northwest corner of the country. It will extend southward to Yapacani in the center of the nation, and from there it will branch out.

Of Bolivia's 12,000 miles of roads, only 340 are paved.

BVSB Hires French Teacher For Youngsville High School

YOUNGSVILLE — The Brokenstraw Valley School Board this week hired Miss Pauline Nelson of Kane to teach French and English classes at Youngsville High School.

SHE DID part of her college work in Paris, France, and is a recent graduate of Upsala College, East Orange, N. J.

Cafeteria assignments for the year have been completed as follows: Irvine — Mrs. Helen Arnold, manager, and Mrs. Kathleen Carpenter; Lottsville — Mrs. Irene Johnson; Pittsfield — Mrs. Mildred Danuski, manager, Mrs. Violet Turner and Mrs. Mary J. Swanson; Youngsville Elementary — Mrs. Mildred Peoples, manager, and Mrs. Dorothy Peterson; Youngsville High School — Mrs. Mildred Jones, manager, Mrs. Florence Mourer, Mrs. Jessie Peterson, Mrs. Katherine Anderson, Mrs. Laura Schwanke, Mrs. Ruth Jameson and Mrs. Laura Hill.

ALSO EMPLOYED was Mrs. Laura Wrebowski who will serve on a part-time basis in assisting with the custodial duties at the Youngsville High School.

The board approved military leave for Robert Green, a member of the high school faculty, who has been ordered to active duty with the Army Oct. 5-9.

IT WAS reported that demolition of the Lottsville high school building has been completed and the matter of a pump house to serve the Lottsville elementary building was discussed. The board requested Robert Scott and Frank Briggs, board members, and Gilbert Anderson, maintenance supervisor, to make a further study of the matter on the site and have suitable equipment and housing installed.

An agreement with Edinboro and Clarion State Teachers Colleges whereby students from these colleges may be assigned to the Brokenstraw Valley schools to do practice teaching under the supervision of staff members was authorized.

A QUOTATION from Warren City Lines for transportation of the football team to Cambridge Springs, Saegertown, Lander and Conneautville, in the amount of $223, was accepted.

The board approved purchase of ice cream to supply the Irvine cafeteria from the Warren County Dairy which also services the cafeteria with milk.

H. J. SHERWOOD was directed to make arrangements for additional transportation between the Grand Valley and Pittsfield elementary areas to relieve an overload on the buses operated by K. A. Welton.

Action was taken to make the Youngsville High School facilities available for adult education classes during the 1964-65 school term, and program arrangements for the adult education classes to be held in Warren County schools will be made by the local district's administrators.

SHERWOOD reminded the board that all schools in the district will be closed Oct. 16 for Teachers Professional Day at which time the speaker will be Richard I. Miller, associate director of the project on the instructional program of the public schools, National Education Association, who has written a report for the association entitled "Education in a Changing Society."

In keeping with the theme for the day, the board authorized the purchase of a copy of the report for each member of the professional staff.

NEA To Install Negro Teacher In Top Spot During Next Year

By MARGARET WILSON

SALISBURY, N.C. (AP) — The National Education Association will install a Negro school teacher in one of its top spots in 1965 — even before many of its Southern units are integrated.

Elizabeth Koontz, who has taught for 24 years in the Negro schools of Salisbury, will be the first of her race to become president of the NEA's Department of Classroom Teachers.

She will take over as spokesman for 830,000 teachers, or 92 per cent of the NEA's membership, at a time when segregated state teacher groups are making final plans to merge. The NEA recently recommended the mergers be complete by 1966.

"It's going to take some time," Mrs. Koontz said. "These are voluntary organizations."

The state groups must be merged without annihilation of either the white or Negro organization, she said, in order to preserve the leadership and active membership in both.

Mrs. Koontz believes the mergers will help the transition to integration at the teacher level as well as the student level.

She said integration at the teacher level could become a reality today in many cities "if the boards of education took the lead."

Crowded classrooms, teacher shortages and teacher salaries will be additional national problems in which she will be involved.

"Just the cost of one rocket or missile could go a long way to supplying the additional classrooms we need," she said.

The great numbers of new teachers being trained are not solving the teacher shortage either, she said, because 50 per cent leave after the first year.

"Often the first-year teacher has to take the roughest situation in schools and there is such a frustration about it that the teacher feels it just isn't worth it," she said.

The lure of higher pay in industry also attracts many teachers who she believes "really prefer to remain in teaching."

Better salaries, tenure or "some kind of job assurance," and maybe probationary periods for new teachers — "to protect the teacher as well as school officials" — will be mandatory if the nation wants to hold young teachers, she said.

Teaching is Mrs. Koontz' first love. Both her parents were teachers and she married a teacher. The couple has no children.

She attended Negro schools in her home town of Salisbury, which has a population of 23,800. Only a handful of Negroes now attend white schools in the textile community 40 miles north of Charlotte.

A teacher of mentally retarded children in Negro schools, Mrs. Koontz will take a year's leave of absence to assume the NEA office. She has been secretary twice and vice president of the national group.

Rep. Holland Urges House Accept Senate's Medicare

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic members of a House-Senate Conference Committee have been urged by Rep. Elmer J. Holland, D-Pa., to accept a Senate-passed program of health care for the aged or a compromise version of the measure.

At the same time Thursday, Rep. Richard S. Schweiker, R-Pa., urged other House members to support an exemption from the Social Security system for the Old Order Amish.

Schweiker asked House members to indicate their support for the provision to members of the conference committee set up to iron out differences in Social Security benefit bill.

The conferees began meeting Wednesday in an attempt to settle differences in Social Security bills passed by the House and Senate. The health care program is contained in the Senate version.

The Senate tacked on to the bill an amendment to exempt the Old Order Amish from the system. There are about 19,000 members of the sect in 19 states, including Pennsylvania. In a letter to his colleagues, Schweiker said "It is difficult to understand why we cannot permit religious groups to conscientiously object to economic regulation when we rightfully recognize their right to object to the military draft."

Holland said if a compromise is needed it could include health care for retired persons under Social Security. It also could include, he said, railroad retirement and retention of an existing health program (Kerr-Mills) for others 65 and over or on relief.

Scott, Miss Blatt Debate Senator's Accomplishments

BETHLEHEM, Pa. (AP) — Republican Senator Hugh Scott and his Democratic opponent, State Secretary of Internal Affairs Genevieve Blatt, disputed Scott's legislative accomplishments as they met Thursday night in their first joint speaking appearance of the campaign.

Some 2,100 persons attended the program at the Lehigh University campus. It was sponsored by the Bethlehem League of Women Voters.

Each of the senatorial candidates spoke for 20 minutes, Scott having the floor first. They followed the same order in a five-minute rebuttal period. There were no questions permitted from the floor.

Scott, seeking re-election, said he spoke to "set my record straight." He took issue with statements by Miss Blatt that no major legislation had been sponsored by him or became law bearing his name.

He cited a number of pieces of legislation in which, he said, he has been helpful. These included the mass transit act, the 1964 civil rights act and educational television grants, which provided more than half a million dollars for Pennsylvania schools.

Scott replied to two specific charges he attributed to Miss Blatt during an address in Philadelphia.

He said Miss Blatt charged that he opposed setting up a National Science Foundation. But, he said, she failed to say that the bill he opposed was subsequently vetoed by former President Harry Truman and that in 1950, when a better plan was offered, he voted for it.

He also said Miss Blatt stated he voted against setting up arms control research. He said he opposed only one provision in the bill for technical reasons.

Miss Blatt Thursday night said Scott's claims "may point up a singular paucity" in legislative accomplishments. She said the mass transit bill had 23 co-sponsors beside Scott. And the civil rights bill had 45 other cosponsors.

She said that during eight years Scott was in Congress, there had been a Republican administration in the White House, which should favor the passage of bills introduced by Republicans. She asked where were the bills bearing his name in those years.

On the subject of foreign affairs, Miss Blatt said she was for moderation. She asked Scott if he were for the policy of Sen. Barry Goldwater, the Republican presidential candidate.

She said Scott was guilty of what she called political expediency. She said he took different positions every day, both on Goldwater and other issues.

Miss Blatt said she gives Scott and Gov. Scranton credit for fighting what she termed the good fight in San Francisco. This, she said, "is why I feel so let down now that they aren't fighting the good fight for moderation."

Scott referred to Pennsylvania Republican party rules which, he said, require that an official of the party support all the candidates on the ticket.

Scott said the New York Republican party has no rule like Pennsylvania that an official of the party must support the whole ticket. In New York, Sen. Kenneth Keating has failed to support Goldwater.

Scott said he always voted independently and that no one told him how to vote. He suggested that Miss Blatt, if elected, would have to vote as Pennsylvania's senior Democratic senator, Joseph S. Clark.

In her rebuttal, Miss Blatt said that "nobody living can tell me how I will vote."

Red China's Party Structure Shows Strain of USSR Quarrel

TOKYO (AP) — Red China's Communist party structure is showing the strain of its massive quarrel with the Soviet party.

Party Chairman Mao Tse-tung has ordered a nationwide purge to halt the infection which began with the publication of the theories of Yang Hsien-chen, a philosopher and central committee member who was educated in the Soviet Union.

Yang, whose influence as president of the higher party school was enormous, pushed a theory that it is possible for capitalism and communism to merge. Mao calls this a betrayal of the Marxian theory of class struggle, of China's own line that revolution is the only way to defeat the West and communize have-not nations.

In August, an article in the party's newspaper, the Peking People's Daily, denounced Yang as a proponent of "modern revisionism." This meant he was espousing Soviet Premier Khrushchev's ideas.

For weeks it has been known that not everyone in China agreed with Mao's uncompromising policies of violence. But how deep was the disaffection?

The Sept. 11 issue of "The Peking Review" gives this answer:

"At the present time, the debate which has started on the philosophical front in our country is continuing. In terms of numbers of participants or of its widespread influence and great significance, a debate such as this has rarely been seen in our academic circles for many years now. It seems that it is still far from being concluded. Step by step it is deepening. Truth always develops in struggle."

Warren Foundation Approves $5,577 in Student Grants

Scholarship grants totaling $5,577 for boys and girls who need help in financing their college education were approved yesterday by the distribution committee of the Warren Foundation.

AN ADVISORY scholarship committee appointed by W. Scott Calderwood, distribution chairman, will screen applicants for the scholarship funds.

On the committee will be two high school guidance counselors, one from the borough and one from the county, a representative of the Woman's Club, a representative from the College Club, and a member of committee.

CALDERWOOD named Mrs. C. J. Cray to represent the Foundation on the scholarship committee and will announce the other members in the next few days.

Considerable time was spent yesterday in discussing the need for helping worthy Warren County college students and the importance of informing all area high school pupils of the availability of Foundation funds for scholarships.

IT IS EXPECTED that the Foundation will have funds available each six months for distribution, and scholarship grants will have top priority when the committee meets.

Committee members also voted to make a standard scholarship application form available to county high schools for the benefit of interested students.

Holger N. Elmquist, Foundation director, reported yesterday that the proceeds for the six-month period January through June, 1964 amounted to $17,427. The distribution of the $5,577 may be made at the discretion of the distribution committee. The rest of the proceeds are distributed according to the wishes of the donors, who have designated the following agencies as beneficiaries:

CRIPPLED Children's Committee of Warren County; First Methodist Church; Woman's Society for Christian Service of the First Methodist Church; Warren Community Chest Inc.; Warren County Probation Association; Boy Scouts of America; Warren Library Association; Warren County Chapter of the American Heart Association; YWCA; and the Northern Allegheny Conservation Association.

The financial statement for six months revealed that the Warren Foundation has received an additional $192,314 in new trust funds and in additions to previously established trusts.

THE BOOK value of the total trust funds held by the Foundation now amounts to $714,387.

The Warren Foundation, established in 1949, will receive gifts and bequests at any time. Each separate fund is held in trust and payments from income are directed by the distribution committee whose members serve without pay.

CONTRIBUTORS to the Foundation may designate their preferred charity or distribution of the funds may be left to the discretion of the distribution committee.

The two local banks serve as trustees of the Warren Foundation.

Special Gifts Kickoff In Chest Drive Monday

The second kick-off meeting of the 1964 Community Chest Campaign to raise $104,400 will be held at noon Monday in the Blue Manor when members of the Special Gifts Division and sections two and three of the Industrial Division receive their assignments.

BYRON W. KNAPP, a former president of the Community Chest, is serving this fall as chairman of the Special Gifts Division which has a quota of $16,182 or 15.5 per cent of the total goal.

To obtain this amount Knapp has enlisted a team of volunteers including Dean Anderson, Edwin Africa, Lynn A. Branch, Neil Culbertson, Paul E. Harrington, Gerald Huber, Myron Jewell, Elmer Lundahl, Harold McNulty, Neil Patterson, A. L. Rasmussen, Ray Steber, James C. Torrance, W. E. Yeager Sr. and W. F. Clinger.

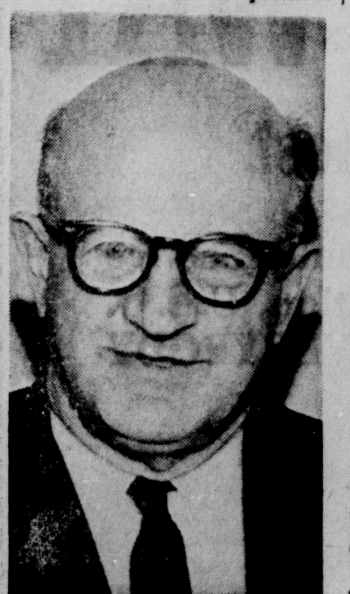

THE SPECIAL Gifts Division kick-off is combined with the kick-off for employee solicitation of the Industrial Division. John Haggerty Jr. and Gordon L. Hanks are vice chairmen for employee solicitation and their teams will cover all industrial plants in Warren.

Serving as volunteers under Haggerty are Joseph Reese Eugene Pring, Roger Grettenberger, T. L. Armstrong, David Harrington, Eugene Nass, Robert Dilks and Dan Doherty.

ASSISTING Hanks are Stanley Glossner and Harold Bengtson.

More than 5,000 employees are covered through the Industrial Division. Nearly 100 men and women are solicited through the Special Gifts team.

All donors this fall are asked to give 10 per cent more than last year.

BYRON KNAPP

seated H. N. Elmquist, Chairman Scott Calderwood and Mrs. C. J. Cray; standing, Harry A. Logan Jr., W. R. Walker and Gerald Huber.

Clay Not Ready to Name Round He'll KO Liston

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — No one becomes excited any more when Muhammad Ali proclaims for all the world to hear that Cassius Clay is not only the prettiest, the cleverest, the most popular but also the greatest world's heavyweight champion fighter of them all.

Instead of rushing to the nearest telephone or typewriter, reporters merely laugh and wait for Muhammad, nee Cassius Clay, to resume his self glorification.

Cassius always obliges.

The 22-year-old champion was in rare form Thursday on an occasion in which he was presented with a 24-carat gold plate.

Pa. Scholastic Football Picks

By DAVE LEHERR
Associated Press Writer

HARRISBURG (AP)—It's almost World Series time again, and that means the first look into the crystal ball for the 1964 scholastic football season.

So without fear, here are our picks for this weekend:

Altoona over Washington—The Yankees edge Baltimore for the American League pennant.

Harrisburg Harris over Milton Hershey—Phillies win first National League since 1950.

Minersville over Schuylkill Haven—Rookie of the Year honors to Tony Oliva of Minnesota and Richie Allen of Philadelphia.

Chambersburg over Lancaster Catholic—Brooks Robinson of Baltimore and John Callison of Philadelphia as Most Valuable Players.

Sayre over Canton—A battle between Wally Bunker of Baltimore and Dean Chance of the Angels for the Cy Young pitching award.

Johnstown over Uniontown—Phils wins series in six games.

Corry over Oil City—Bob Clemente of Pittsburgh wins another Major League batting crown.

Plymouth - Whitmarsh over Norristown—Harmon Killebrew winds up with 52 home runs.

Other Games: East—Neshaminy over La Salle, Lancaster over Coatesville, Darby-Colwyn over Nether Providence, Philadelphia Bishop Egan over Roman X, Lock Haven over Bald Eagle Area, Hazleton over Portland, West Hazleton over Shenandoah, Hanover over Spring Grove, Lebanon Catholic over Delone Catholic, Towanda over Athens, Coal Twp. over Ashland, Pottsville over Mahanoy Area, Bethlehem over Reading, Central Dauphin over Lebanon, Sunbury over Selinsgrove, Old Forge over North East, Scranton Central over Kingston, Blakely over Clarks Summit, Middletown over Cumberland Valley, Cedar Cliff over York.

West—Butler over Ellwood City, Farrell over Aliquippa, Monessen over Monongahela, Ambridge over New Castle, Erie Tech over Erie Strong Vincent, Erie Academy over Harbor Creek, Grove City over Meadville, Warren over Franklin, Greenville over Hickory, Kane over St. Marys, New Kensington over Pittsburgh Oliver, Beaver Falls over Sharon, Johnstown Bishop McCort over East Conemaugh, Indiana over Dubois, Somerset over Bedford, Titusville over Townville.

ed championship belt by Nat Fielescher, editor of Ring Magazine.

Obviously pleased, Clay posed proudly for the photographers and television cameras. He had only one complaint.

"I see where this belt says 'world's heavyweight champion,' he said. "It should read 'world's heavyweight champion.' I'm gonna knock off the ship." I've always sunk that ship."

Clay was referring to Sonny Liston, from whom he wrested the title last February and whom he signed to meet in a return match in Boston Nov. 16.

Clay, who has gained a reputation of sorts predicting the round in which he would flatten his opponent, scored a near miss in his first meeting with Liston. He predicted an eight-round kayo. Liston quit after six rounds.

"I'm not ready yet to name the round this time," Clay said.

A group of photographs of former fighters hanging on the walls of the office caught Clay's eye. Fielescher explained that they represented Boxing's Hall of Fame. The list included such former heavyweight champions as John L. Sullivan, Jack Johnson, Jim Corbett, Jack Dempsey, Joe Louis, Gene Tunney and Rocky Marciano.

"You can't name one man there greater than I am," said Clay defiantly. "Tell me . . . Which of these fighters could command $250 for a ticket like I did?"

"Which fought all over the world taking on all comers like I did?"

"Which was more popular? Who could make an appearance at the United Nations building and stop all business like I did?"

Clay paused momentarily to regain his breath.

"Now let me think of something else."

While he was thinking, somebody asked whether he thought he could beat Dempsey in his prime?

"Was he fast? Could he move?" Clay asked.

Cassius was told that Dempsey fought out of a crouch and was not particularly fast.

"Two rounds," he exploded. "That's all I would need with him."

Upon reflection, Cassius demurred a bit.

"No, I don't want to say anything about him. He's a nice man and I'm sure he was a good fighter. Besides, I may want to go into his restaurant some day."

Parker Benches Lemek, Johnson For Not Blocking

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Guard Ray Lemek and fullback John Henry Johnson won't be in the starting lineup for the Pittsburgh Steelers when they meet the New York Giants Sunday at Pitt Stadium.

Steelers Coach Buddy Parker announced Wednesday he is demoting the pair because they didn't do "any blocking all year."

Parker said quarterback Ed Brown was nailed often by tacklers in the Steelers' 26-14 loss to the Los Angeles Rams last Sunday, and the coach put part of the blame on Lemek and Johnson.

"I doubt if any quarterback in our league could have completed a pass or moved the club with the protection that Brown received," Parker said. "If those fellows up front and the backfield blockers are not hitting the rushers you just don't go any place."

Ron Stehouwer is to start at Lemek's position, and Clarence Peaks will be in Johnson's fullback slot in the game with the Giants.

2 Co. Teams in Action Tonight, Others Tomorrow

All four Warren County football teams will be in action this weekend as the gridiron season heads into the second week for three of the teams and first for the remaining one.

Northern Area will open its defense of the Valley Conference championship it shared last year with Pine Valley at Brocton tonight for a 7:30 encounter. It will be the first meeting for the two teams in six years. (See story on Northern Area's gridiron chances for the season in this section.)

Warren will be playing host to Franklin for the Dragons' second straight home game before hitting the road. Game time is 2:30 p. m. tomorrow on War Memorial Field.

Youngsville is traveling to Cambridge Springs tonight for its first Crawford County League game, and like Northern Area in defense of the title. Game time is 8 p. m.

Sheffield will meet Johnsonburg tomorrow afternoon at home in what could prove to be the wildest gridiron battle of the weekend on the local scene. The two schools are rivals from way back and Johnsonburg would like to pay the Wolverines back for the 26-6 trouncing administered last year by Sheffield. Game time is 1:30 p. m.

The Dragons' Fred Bell will be seeking his second straight Section II victory after setting Corry back last week, 26-12. Franklin smothered Erie Academy, 32-0, in its opener.

As bad as the Franklin-Academy score looks, the Knights did most of their scoring after recovering fumbles deep in enemy territory or intercepting passes. Carl Anderson, the Knights quarterback and reportedly one of the best passers in the Section, completed only five out of 13. The Knights gained only 44 yards via the air route. Anderson's own running game out-gained by far his passing game.

Paul Law, the wing-footed halfback, looks even better than he did last year. As a matter of fact, the first time he handled a football this year he scampered 26 yards for a touchdown. He'll be one of the Dragons' main problems tomorrow.

Bell, addressing the Warren Sports Boosters and commenting on the Corry game, said the boys "played a fairly good ball game. We made a lot of mistakes but I saw some good things, too." He also said he saw some room for improvement on defense.

The head coach said he thought the Knights might pass more on Warren than they did against Erie, which he said was about 40 per cent of the time. However, "I don't think they'll score 32 points on us," he said.

Bell said there were no serious injuries coming out of the Corry game, just a few bruises which shouldn't sideline anybody. He said that Tom Creola, the standout right tackle, was suffering from a Charley horse last week and should be all right for this game.

The tentative starting offensive line-up for Warren sees either Art Rossman or Jim Smith at left end, Mike Pastrick at left tackle, Al Brown at left guard, Tom Knight centering, Bob Rice at right guard, Creola at right tackle, Dick Thompson at right end (the Sports Boosters Lineman of the Week). In the backfield, Bill Pasquino will be doing the quarterbacking, Mike Spinney (Back of the Week) at left half, Paul Johnston at right half and Ken Wolfe at fullback.

Franklin's probable starting offensive line-up and weights follow: Ends—Bill Steele, 170, Bob Harper, 190; tackles—Mike Snyder, 185, Tom Keith, 185; guards—Jim Witherup, 150, Bill McCracken, 194; center—John Davis, 195; quarterback—Carl Anderson, 185; halfbacks—Paul Law, 160, Rich Hancox, 147; and Bob Armour, 202, fullback.

Cambridge Springs finished fourth in a poll of coaches conducted by The Times-Mirror this fall, right behind Youngsville. The polling, however, was so close it was almost a toss-up which team would get the third position.

The Eagles bottled up Elk County Christian's attack and in turn were bottled up by the Crusaders in the first game of the season last week although managing a 6-6 tie. A hard-working Toby Shea, however, probably has cleared up a lot of the mistakes made by the Eagles in their first game.

The Sheffield-Johnsonburg game should be a dandy. The Wolverines are coming off a 46-0 murder of Otto-Eldred, a game played at Sheffield where the visitors never got past mid-field. Lou DeRubies is hoping that his boys are just as unhostile this week.

Mr. W Sez—

By MR. W

Our crystal ball last week turned to solid gold as all county teams that saw action got through their openers without a loss, although Youngsville could only manage a tie (6-6) against Elk County Christian.

Things don't look so easy this week, however, as the competition stiffens on all fronts. However, when the dust settles, it should look like this:

Yanks Climb Back into First

Positioning 'Good' for Flag Drive

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Yoo hoo, Yogi, you can't be in first place. This is 1964.

Yogi, formally known as Manager Berra, and his New York Yankees climaxed a 42-day drive to the top of the American League Thursday night with a 6-2 triumph over the Los Angeles Angels.

The victory lifted the Yankees two percentage points — .593 to .591 — ahead of the idle Baltimore Orioles and Chicago White Sox, who are tied for second.

With two fewer losses than the other contenders, the Yankees appear to be in a good position to capture their fifth straight pennant.

But besides the Orioles and the White Sox standing in their way, the Yankees are faced with the oddity that they've never won the pennant in a year ending in "4."

Yankee teams have finished second in four of the six years of that type in this century, but that's as close as they've come. Their second place finish in 1954 ended a string of five consecutive pennants.

The Yankees have 17 games in which to shatter that unwanted reputation while Baltimore and Chicago have 13 each in which to extend it.

All three teams play at home tonight with the Yankees hosting Kansas City, Baltimore engaging Los Angeles and Chicago taking on Washington. New York holds a 9-6 margin over the Athletics, the Orioles are 9-6 with the Angels and the White Sox lead the Senators 11-4.

The Angels-Yankees game was the only one scheduled in the AL Thursday night. In the National League, Cincinnati beat Chicago 7-5 and Philadelphia edged the Los Angeles Dodgers 4-3.

New York's latest victory came with a big help from the bullpen. Roland Sheldon rescued starter Mel Stottlemyre in the seventh inning after the Angels had scored two runs and had the bases loaded with one out.

Sheldon struck out pinch hitter Ed Kirkpatrick and got pinch hitter Felix Torres to hit into a force out.

Stottlemyre, now 7-2, had allowed only one hit through the first six innings. That was a bunt single by Bob Rodgers in the fifth.

Mickey Mantle collected a single, a double and his 31st homer, a two-run smash in the seventh, for New York. His single in the sixth inning was the 2,000th hit of his major league career.

Giants in a 'Must Game'; Vikings Should Skin Bears

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The hungry St. Louis Cardinals, underdogs to the Cleveland Browns, can shake up the Eastern Conference of the National Football League Sunday by upsetting Jimmy Brown and Co.

After the New York Giants' disastrous opener in Philadelphia, many pro observers look to the Cards and Browns as the top threats in the East. They also will be stealing glances toward Pittsburgh to see if Y. A. Tittle can bounce back for the Giants.

Minnesota, too, can scramble the NFL's Western Conference form by handing the champion Chicago Bears a second straight defeat. The Bears showed little offensive against Green Bay and the Vikings ran Baltimore out of the park with 463 yards gained, 313 on the ground.

Washington could upend the Dallas Cowboys in the Cotton Bowl. The revamped Skins can run and throw. The Cowboys still are having trouble putting the pieces together.

Green Bay figures over Baltimore, surprising Philadelphia over San Francisco, Detroit over tough Los Angeles and New York over Pittsburgh.

The big one in the American League's three-game weekend program is the replay of last year's championship game — Boston at San Diego. The favored Chargers humiliated the Pats last year 51-10.

Despite upsets by Philadelphia, Minnesota and Boston, things ran close to form in the openers last week. In the NFL we had a 5-22 record and 3-1 in the AFL for a total 8-3.

Taking another stab it looks like this: All games Sunday unless otherwise noted.

Green Bay 31, Baltimore 20 — If Vikings could run through the Colts' line, Paul Hornung and Jim Taylor should rip it to shreds. Johnny Unitas' arm will keep Colts in ball game.

Minnesota 21, Chicago 17 — Loss of linebacker Larry Morris, possibly for the season, a cruel blow to Bears who must rely on defense with sick of offense. Bill Brown and Tom Mason carry the load for Vikings.

Detroit 13, Los Angeles 10 — Saturday night — Battle of two fine defensive units. Rams' front four tough to crack but Lions won't make eight ball-busting errors like Steelers did against L.A. Rams must go again with rookie quarterback Bill Munson.

New York 28, Pittsburgh 14 — Don't be surprised if Giants run a little on Steelers, give Tittle a chance to open with bombs.

Giants need bounce back win badly.

St. Louis 17, Cleveland 14 — Two well-balanced offenses but Cards have edge in deep defense. Frank Ryan was intercepted three times last week at Washington.

Philadelphia 24, San Francisco 17 — Joe Kuharich has Eagles on cloud nine. They can't keep it up, but it should last long enough to handle 49ers who will be minus Bob St. Clair. Another good day for Norm Snead and Tim Brown.

Washington 31, Dallas 28 — These clubs play some wild ones. Sonny Jurgensen throwing and Charley Taylor running against vulnerable Cowboy defense. Meredith must have big day to make favorite role stand up.

AFL
Oakland 28, Houston 24. Saturday night — Oilers won't blitz Raiders like Boston did last week. Al Davis beat Houston twice last year and again in an exhibition game 34-20. Why not again?

Buffalo 27, Denver 20 — Improved Bills should handle Broncos although Jack Lee always a threat to leaky Buffalo secondary.

San Diego 21, Boston 13 — These two clubs played two close-to-the-vest games last year before title game rout. Sid Gillman has outside threat to counter Pats' blitzing tactics.

Major College Football Season Swings Into High Gear

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Colorado and Southern California kick off the first full weekend of the college football season tonight, a weekend that has more toughies than traditional opening breathers.

The Saturday lineup offers Navy at Penn State, Syracuse at Boston College, Georgia at Alabama, Air Force at Washington, Texas A&M at Louisiana State, Oklahoma at Maryland and Missouri at California as examples of major teams opening with important opponents.

And Mississippi, picked No. 1 in the Associated Press' pre-season poll, could have its hands full with Memphis State, a growing power ready to challenge Georgia Tech as the South's top independent.

Southern California, co-favorite with Washington to make it to the Rose Bowl, starts festivities tonight against Colorado, the only major Friday night action and only the second major college game of the season.

UCLA opened the season with a 17-12 upset at Pittsburgh last week.

"We're ready," coach John McKay said after Southern Cal's final workout Thursday. "They've spent three weeks with no scrimmages and everybody wants to do some hitting. The fellows are hungry."

Halfback Mike Garrett, who paced USC to a 14-0 victory at Colorado last year, again is expected to lead the attack. Colorado lost only five men by graduation from the team that compiled a 2-8 mark last season, but is relying heavily on sophomores and is a three touchdown underdog.

Mississippi is favored against Memphis State, but not too heavily. Ole Miss again sports a rock-ribbed defense, and has a score to settle with the on-coming Tigers, who held them to a scoreless tie last season.

Oklahoma, deep and tough, is ranked No. 2 and, with quarterback Mike Ringer in good shape, is favored over Maryland. Terrapin Tom Nugent, however, is reminding people he has managed an upset in each of his 27 years as a coach.

One of the top attractions, and one of four regional television games, has 10th ranked Navy at Penn State. The Middies will rely heavily on quarterback Roger Staubach. Penn State is reported to have some thin spots, but is a very slight underdog to the team that was No. 2 in the nation last year.

The other regional TV games are SMU-Florida, Kansas State-Wisconsin and Stanford-Washington State.

One Touch Of Nature

Some Favorite Plugs

After Larry Pierce of Pleasantville caught his 48½-inch, 27 pound muskie in Tionesta Reservoir, we dropped by to admire his prize. On hand was Garland Archer, who himself has handled quite a few muskies out of the Allegheny, Chautauqua Lake and Tionesta. Pierce was readying his luncheon for mounting. Archer said the price at some Jamestown taxidermist was merely $35. The standard fee around these parts is a buck and a half an inch. Anyway, we asked to see the plug which fooled this big one. Larry produced a scarred Creek Chub jointed pikie minnow, shad finish. And Garland indulged in some recollections on how good a plug the shad finish pikie was. Garland at one time could almost guarantee a muskie everytime that plug was dragging behind the boat. So one day in Jamestown he got himself a half-dozen shads. Shortly after that muskies began to ignore the shad completely. And this extended discussions to why fish go batty about one plug for several seasons and then suddenly scorn them. Garland thinks fish tire of seeing them and recognize them for being false. It could also be that fishermen get tired of faithfully using a proven plug and switch to another. Some plugs which once were favorites on the Allegheny but lost favor are the Shakespeare red and white mouse (now made by Creek Chub) for bass, the river runt spook, crazy crawler, jitterbug and Phillips midget killer. They are still good plugs. And many anglers are still faithful to Shakespeare's Slim Jim. It's a walleye plug, but since Shakespeare went out of the plug business, the Slim Jim is hard to locate. No sports store seems to have a supply anymore. They are like a collector's item.

Chums Go Chumming

A few days ago Dan Molitoris, Tionesta state policeman, and sidekick, Bob Patterson, after eyeing deep holes which sand and gravel dredge has gouged in the river there, smacked his lips at the thought of catching a few big catfish. Dan and Bob are quite knowledgeable about pike, bass and muskies, and even spearing carp through the ice. But this catfishing business was something new. They heard that catfish holes are usually chummed. So somewhere in Tionesta they secured a load of ripe cow entrails, which with considerable labor and discomfort they dumped into their favorite hole. They waited an interval and returned to fish but came home empty handed. When one burger in Tionesta asked Dan what he got, Dan answered, "sick." Reminds us of that time friend Joe "hammer-threwed" a couple onion sacks of meat scraps into a catfish hole in Rockmere. We fished and fished but never caught a catfish there. But we did foul-hook a bag of meat scraps twice. Having watched several successful cat-fishermen take the whiskered brutes out of the Allegheny, our recommended procedure is that catfishermen use live minnows and soft crabs for best results. It's that simple — with persistence.

Support Warren Field Day

September attractions in Northwestern Pennsylvania can start an outdoorsman's head spinning. What should we do? Train beagles in the golden rods, visit favorite deer haunts and build a perch for archery season; take the family on a Sunday spin to wild geese flocking to Pymatuning refuge; move outdoor furniture out of the weather at camp. The bass plugging at night becomes most rewarding as smallmouths clean up minnows on the river's shoreline. There's too much to be enjoyed, even hickory and walnuts to be gathered for mixing in home-made cookies. But September would not have its full outdoor flavor without a good old-fashioned Sportsmen's Field Day. In Venango County the Buck Tails used to hold such an occasion on Labor Day annually for many years at their center in Cranberry township. Later the Venango County Council of Sportsmen's Clubs carried on. This annual gathering of hunters, fishermen, campers, dog owners, we miss it. It is no more. However, for those still interested in testing their shooting skills and luck, Warren County Council of Sportsmen Clubs will hold a field day Sunday, Sept. 20. The Brokenstraw Fish and Game Club, on Mead Run Road, one-half mile west of Youngsville is the site. Skeet shooters of Franklin, Oil City, Titusville, Black Ash, Corry and Union City teams should be interested in a trap shoot beginning at 10 a.m. and ending at 4 p.m. Junior and senior trophies will be awarded. For those who like to browse, visit, gab with game and fish wardens, the 15 Warren county sports club's event is a must. Parking and admission is free and 15 prizes await distribution. Since this is basically a conservation effort, northwest Pennsylvania outdoorsmen, most of all, should support it wholeheartedly.

Knights' Picture Not As Rosy As Last Year

By DAVE FAY

Times-Mirror Sports Editor

Last season, being interviewed before the season began, Northern Area's Norge Luvison said that things looked good on paper.

Indeed, things not only looked good but turned out that way, too, as the Knights finished the season with a 7-1 record winning seven straight and losing only the last game to Pine Valley, 14-0. The Knights tied for the Valley Conference championship.

Last year before the season started Norge was more worried about welding his defensive team into a unit than he was about his offense's set-up. This year, the situation is exactly reversed.

Through graduation, Luvison lost five key men in his offensive machine, five men who are going to be very hard to replace. Most of his defensive team is back and this could be the strong point and very life-saver for the Knights.

Needless to say, Luvison wasn't the only person to notice the loss of five key offensive players. The other coaches in the Valley Conference also took this down and, as a result, in a poll conducted by The Times-Mirror picked the Knights to finish fourth this year, one vote away from fifth place as a matter of fact.

Bemus Point was the choice of most coaches to finish on top of the eight-team league when it was all over, although two other teams received first-place votes. Randolph was almost the unanimous choice to finish last with Silver Creek and Brocton pushing close.

Brocton is a new entry in the league this year. It is returning after an absence of some six years. Brocton is also the Knights' first game of the season, tonight at Brocton. Normally the Knights have been successful against the Bulldogs, including a victory the last time the two teams met six years ago.

Missing from this year's squad will be end Ross Porter, quarterback Jack Norton, tackle Jimmie Stuart, fullback Ernie VanHouten, leading ground gainer on the team last year, and halfback Al Stewart who led the team in scoring. Several others were also graduated.

Returning to the Knights are 13 lettermen, many without a whole lot of experience, and 10 other boys who have seen some experience but have not lettered.

Notable returnees to the backfield are regular Jim Stewart, the speedy little (138 pounds) halfback with the ability to break away and go as he did more than once last season, Don Bosko, another halfback and another Ernie at fullback, this one Hartman. Hartman is one of the faster boys on the team and a track star during the season. Bosko will be out injured at least two games.

Jim Wilkins, a lettering halfback, will be switched to end this season. Jim Carlson, who lettered as a substitute quarterback, will be moved over to fullback backing up Hartman. Dick Williams will handle the quarterbacking duties with Dave Werner backing him up.

Luvison, who used the split end last season, is junking it and will use the slot end and "T" this year. The lonesome end system apparently didn't work out as well as expected.

Beside the defense, one of Luvison's bright spots this season may be an exchange student from Brazil, Cesar Grisa. The Brazilian will mainly take care of the Knights' place kicking duties, kicking the ball much the same way he did a soccer ball in his native country. As has been discovered by some colleges (namely Cornell and Princeton with the two Gogolak brothers), an experienced soccer player can be deadly accurate kicking a football and also get much more distance out of it than by kicking it the normal American way.

Other kicking chores will be taken care of by Dick Williams, punting, and Tom Gibbon, kicking off.

Luvison expected to be big and strong at his middle line positions this season but otherwise not very big. Returning interior linemen are Eldon Birt, Dan Burgett, Doug Angove, Dick Burlingame, John Carlson, Noble Livezey and Jack Angove.

Probably one of the smallest men on any offensive line in the conference will be the Knights' Jeff Machemer, the starting center weighing a grand total of 142 pounds soaking wet. Despite his size, Luvison says, he can play the position well and take the beating that is sometimes necessary to take when playing the position.

Concerning the fact that Brocton, the league opener, is advancing from Class C football to Class B this season, Luvison is not taking the game lightly, but he never takes any game lightly.

Brocton last year posted a 6-0 league record and a 7-1 overall mark under coach Warren Rammacher, his first year as head coach. The Bulldogs should be strong offensively with two very good experienced halfbacks returning (Tony Sina and Dick Nixon) and a seasoned quarterback in Rob Richardson. Also returning is senior fullback Walt

James. Richardson is a passer and he has reportedly some fine receivers.

The school lost two all-conference tackles to graduation last year and its line is generally smaller. Also lacking this season is depth on the line. "We will be a smaller team compared to our opponents but we will sacrifice size for speed and aggressiveness," Rammacher said.

Starting offensively for the Knights will be left end John Brown, left tackle Eldon Birt, left guard Doug Angove, center Jeff Machemer, right guard Dick Burlingame, right tackle Dan Burgett, right end Jim Wilkins, quarterback Dick Williams, halfbacks Ernie Hartman and Jim Stewart and fullback Jim Carlson.

Here's a quick look at other opponents the Knights will be facing in future weeks:

SILVER CREEK: Jerry Nelson, speedy all-conference halfback, key to offensive attack along with Dennie Carlson, a 440 champ, at the other half-back spot. Marty Link, 6-5 215-pound tackle, big man in line. Hurting at guards and defensively poor.

RANDOLPH: John West the key man among 11 returning lettermen. Randolph won first two games last year with Quarterback West calling the shots. He was injured in third game and they didn't win another all season. Lost seven seniors last year so will have to get a lot out of veterans.

YOUNGVILLE: Small and inexperienced, but could be a team to watch out for by the time the two meet in a Wednesday afternoon game, Oct. 14. Both teams will have two games within four days so a key injury or two could be the telling factor. No matter what always a good game between the two. Knights won last year, Eagles the year before.

CASSADAGA VALLEY: Have one of the top men in the league in fullback Bill Whitford who could replace Don Waite this year as the league's top scorer. A big man was lost in the line this week when Bill Newton broke a leg in scrimmage and is out for the season. Backfield is pretty good but line is small and fairly inexperienced.

BEMUS POINT: Fourteen returning lettermen. 10 others returning who have experience and that's the story. Expected by most to go all the way.

WESTFIELD: One of the two Bemus Point. Have nine out of some of the marbles away from teams given a chance to take 11 regulars returning with plenty of back-up. A big, powerful team.

PINE VALLEY: A revenge motive here could carry the Knights over the highly-rated Panthers. The other team given a chance to upset Bemus. Have a dozen returning lettermen and a flock of experienced boys to back them up. Has fairly well balanced attack and good defense (line averages 195).

LIONS' ANSWER TO STAUBACH — Gary Wydman, Penn State's probable starting quarterback tomorrow against Navy, poses with his top five receivers as an answer to Roger Staubach, the Middies' all-everything quarterback whom State coach Rip Engle calls one of the best in his memory. The game

Engle: Staubach Best in Memory

By DAVE LEHERR
Associated Press Writer

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP) — Navy's Roger Staubach, returning to the scene of his 1962 college football debut, invades the land of the Nittany Lion Saturday as the Middies battle Penn State.

Then it was Staubach the sophomore, playing just four minutes and throwing only three passes — one nullified by a penalty, another incomplete, and the third intercepted. He gained nine yards on the ground in two carries, but the cause was futile as the Midshipmen bowed to State 41-7.

Saturday, however, it will be Staubach the All-America, winner of the 1963 Heisman and Maxwell trophies and heralded as one of the greatest college football players in a decade.

Since his nondescript debut at Beaver Stadium two years ago, the Jolly Roger has rewritten the record books at the Naval Academy, putting together 3,121 yards in total offense.

The report is he's even better this year. "Staubach is the best college quarterback in my memory," says Penn State Coach Rip Engle, who has had such outstanding signal callers as Milt Plum, Richie Lucas and Pete Liske. "His poise under pressure is amazing. He refuses to become rattled. He's the complete quarterback who can do it all — and do it well."

Penn State goes into the contest with two quarterback problems. Not only must the Lions stop Staubach, but they also lack an experienced quarterback of their own. Of the three signal callers on the Nittany Lion roster, none has seen a minute of college action at the position.

Gary Wydman, a 180-pound senior, has been tapped to start with southpaw Dick Gingrich as his understudy.

Wydman lettered as a halfback in 1961, but missed the 1962 season with a knee injury and most of 1963 because of mononucleosis. Gingrich was an end last year as a sophomore.

Jack White, the third quarterback, is a transfer student from Florida.

A crowd of 45,000 is expected to jam Beaver Stadium for the regionally televised battle. Navy holds a slight edge in the off-and-on series between the two schools, having won 14 to Penn State's 11 with two games ending in ties. However, the last Middle triumph came in 1955.

Constellation in 2nd Win

By SID MOODY
Associated Press Writer

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — It was "orrible, absolutely "orrible, what Constellation did to Sovereign.

And there is no let up on the horizon even though there will be no racing today at Sovereign's request.

Peter Scott, skipper of the Royal Thames Yacht Club's challenger, put it as well as any one after Sovereign's disastrous defeat in the second America's Cup race Thursday.

With Constellation now needing but two wins to retain the cup for the United States, what did he think of Sovereign's chances?

"I expect pretty much as you do. But, you know, hope springs eternal in the human breast and the final issue is decided after the fourth race, not the second."

The victory margin in time was the widest margin since 1886 in the 19 challenges for the cup — 20 minutes and 24 seconds or about 2-13 miles.

If the Gods of the sea are ever going to beam on Sovereign, it seemed they must have been doing so at the start of Thursday's match. The wind blew a chilly 21 knots from the Southwest, the kind of blow the British yacht had been praying for.

Racing will resume Saturday, weather permitting. Sovereign is to have some sails recut and she will be out again this afternoon doing homework on spin-naker drills.

Obituaries

(The Warren Times-Mirror does not charge for obituary notices. A small charge for advertising is made direct to the funeral directors for the notices in which the names of their funeral homes appear.)

GEORGE S. LeBARON

George S. LeBaron, 72, of Gerry, N. Y., died in his home Sept. 16, 1964, after a long illness. He was the father of Mrs. Marilyn Stanton of Russell.

Mr. LeBaron was born in Clymer, N. Y., in 1892, the son of Hixon and Amanda Bidwell LeBaron. A retired carpenter, he had lived in Gerry for 34 years and was a member of the Jamestown Local, Carpenters' Union. He and his wife, the former Mabel Fargo, observed their 50th wedding anniversary Aug. 16, 1964.

Also surviving are four daughters and a son, 17 grandchildren, and three brothers.

The funeral service will be conducted in Sinclairville, N. Y., at 2 p.m. Saturday by the Rev. Edwin F. Armitage, Methodist minister.

BARBARA L. ROWLAND

A Requiem Mass was celebrated at 10 a.m. Thursday in St. Luke's Catholic Church in Youngsville for Mrs. Barbara Louise Rowland of 248 E. Main St., Youngsville, who died Sept. 14. The celebrant was the Rev. Alfred M. Bauer, pastor of St. Joseph's Church of Warren.

Serving as bearers were Larry, Robert and Richard Peterson, Thomas Shields, James Maloney and Thomas Abraham.

CHARLES RUSSELL

WILLOW CREEK — Charles Russell, who died in Bradford Hospital on Sept. 10, 1964, was buried in Willow Dale Cemetery in that community on Monday.

The former local resident is survived by his wife; a son, Charles Leo Russell, Willow Creek; a sister and a brother, Mrs. Mary McCarthy and Thomas James Russell, Bradford; also six grandchildren and one great-grandchild, three nephews and a niece.

Election Study Group To Meet On Monday

The Study Group of the Governor's Advisory Committee on Elections and Election Laws will meet Monday in Harrisburg with the Election Study Committee and the State Association of County Commissioners.

Committee members include chief clerks from the following counties: William W. Allen, chairman, Warren; Joseph A. Book, Lawrence; Lynn Shields, Indiana; W. R. Womer, Bedford; Edward J. Rainey, Lackawanna; Harley S. Stewart Sr., Lehigh; David W. Arnold, Northumberland.

Solicitors Robert D. Hanson, Dauphin, and Laird S. Gemberling, Snyder, also serve on the committee.

County Commissioner Blain M. Mead, president of the State Ass'n of County Commissioners, will accompany Allen to the session. Also attending are Dwayne E. Ringer, Somerset, representing the State Legislative committee, and W. Fred Kohler, Northumberland, first vice president of the State Ass'n.

Topics to be discussed are absentee voting procedures, watchers and watchers certificates, citizenship requirements in Pennsylvania, registration forms and procedures, conduct of elections at the polling places, duties of election boards and county election board procedures.

World News in Brief

PARIS (AP) — Attempts to bring the feuding princes of Laos to the negotiating table in Paris appear doomed unless the pro-Communist Pathet Lao makes hurried concessions.

A Laotian Embassy official said neutralist Premier Prince Souvanna Phouma would hold a news conference Saturday and make a farewell statement before returning to Laos Monday.

The official said the premier would explain his decision to leave "unless the Pathet Lao makes some further proposals between now and the news conference."

Souvanna Thursday rejected a Pathet Lao proposal for dissident neutrals in the Plaine des Jarres to return under the command of neutralist Gen. Kong Lee.

Souvanna has been demanding withdrawal of leftist troops to positions they occupied before June 24 and neutralization of the plaine.

increase in 1964, but employees will receive the equivalent of about a one per cent increase starting next month when the company will begin paying the full cost of premiums for group life and disability insurance.

Ford will pay full cost of hospital-surgical-medical insurance coverage for retired employees and their eligible dependents beginning with coverage for the month of November this year.

There still was no word from Chrysler, where 7,000 union-represented office workers and engineering personnel were threatening to walk out at 10 a.m. EST.

UAW President Walter P. Reuther said earlier that chances of avoiding a strike by Chrysler's UAW represented office workers appeared "quite good" and that there was "every reason to believe they were making progress" on a supplemental contract covering these groups.

The union wrapped up Sept. 9 a national contract covering Chrysler's 64,000 hourly rated production, maintenance and parts depot employees. The union estimated the pact worth 54 cents an hour over its three year life.

"It would be unbelievable if we didn't get a contract now," said a source at Ford which added: "And we should be able to wrap it up before the deadline."

"(A new Ford contract) will follow the Chrysler package right down the line on retirement at 60 — a $400 monthly maximum and the whole bit." Ford previously had offered to match wage and fringe benefits in the Chrysler economic package, but the union had insisted that the company "put the 54 cents on the table and let's see what it will buy."

Appealing to her father, King Frederik of Denmark, Constantine told his story, saying he realized the tender age of his fiancée.

A sympathetic King Frederik is reported to have replied: "Yes, she's young — but she's yours."

As queen, Anne-Marie won't change her name despite rumors that she might drop part of it. The Greek people won't call her Anne-Marie, however. In Greek they say Anna-Maria.

She will change her religion, from being a Lutheran she will embrace her husband's Greek Orthodox faith.

King Constantine has refused to say where they will honeymoon. He said he wants privacy from photographers who've dogged his heels this week.

The national army headquarters said Thursday that it controls Kongolo, leaving only a few pockets of resistance further south.

Registration Still Open For Penn State Courses

There is still time to register for either of the two adult discussion courses sponsored by Penn State University under its liberal studies for adults program, according to Mrs. Theodore Prodromou.

THE TWO courses are Everyman's Sociology and Looking at Modern Painting. The informal discussions will be held in the Jefferson Room of the Warren Public Library.

Everyman's Sociology will meet Monday evenings from 7 to 9 p.m., starting Sept. 28. Miss Joyce Anderegg will serve as discussion leader.

IN OUR increasingly complex society, man must play many roles and meet the demands of many groups, according to the course outline. So much time is devoted to satisfying the requirements of others that there is little opportunity to do the things he desires. The contention is that there is little freedom of choice left to modern man.

Questions asked include: Is contemporary society so ordered that men subscribe to the dictates of the group to which they belong or else? How do we explain the willingness of the masses to follow the bidding of society's leaders?

The misunderstandings of the work and content of sociology will be discussed and an introduction to sociology given. Societal conditions which determine the shape of man's behavior and world literature which gives a literary insight into scientific understanding of human behavior will also be examined.

TEXTS BY Peter Berger, Lewis Coser and Alex Inkeles will be used.

The Looking at Modern Painting course will meet Wednesdays from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m., beginning Sept. 30, under the leadership of Mrs. A. J. O'Connor.

PARTICIPANTS will study cubism, expressionism, abstractionism, surrealism. They will be asked to examine their active or latent tastes and prejudices, relate their value systems more exactly to what the painters have actually done, and generally sharpen their visual perceptions, refine their emotional reactions and deepen their intellectual understanding of painting in our time.

The courses will last for 10 weeks, meeting two hours every week. There is no credit given nor is there any educational prerequisite. The groups meet merely for two hours weekly to discuss the topics assigned.

THIS IS an informal way to exchange ideas, Mrs. Prodromou says, to broaden one's outlook and continue the learning process. There is no teacher, as the discussion leader is merely trained to lead discussion.

Further information can be obtained from Mrs. Prodromou, 12 Redwood St.

Kiwanis Members Are Told Of Social Security Plan

James Wiss, Social Security administrator for Warren County, appeared before Warren Kiwanians Wednesday at their luncheon at the Blue Manor Restaurant.

Wiss traced the Social Security program back to the Social Security Act of 1935 and told of its inception in 1937. He explained the diversification of Social Security to Kiwanians and then went on to talk about the federally-administered portion of Social Security involving retirement, disability and survivors benefits.

HE EXPLAINED in detail the requirements for claims under each benefit plan and quoted minimum and maximum schedules of payment. He then went on to explain how the Internal Revenue collected the social security tax, quoted the present individual rate, and stated that by 1968 the individual rate will amount to 4 5/8%.

Wiss then went on to tell about the Social Security headquarters in Baltimore stating that 39 million social security individual account records are kept on file there. Of particular interest to Warren County residents was his statement that 6,000 people in Warren County are receiving monthly benefits amounting to $415,000. Wiss, who is a graduate of the University of Buffalo School of Business Administration, resides in Jamestown. He was introduced by Kiwanis President Dr. Arthur J. O'Connor.

IT WAS announced that Bill Hughes will present the Camp Complanter story to Kiwanians attending the District Convention in Pittsburgh to be held in the near future. It is hoped that the Warren Kiwanis Club can spark an aid program through other Kiwanis clubs and raise funds for new equipment and recreation building scheduled to be built at the Retarded Children's Camp. Others planning to attend the convention from Warren are Clifford Terry, James Blomquist, Dr. Robert Conn and Dr. O'Connor.

It was announced by Project Chairman William Schreckengost that Kiwanians would realize a profit approximating $350 from their sale of peanut brittle and hot dogs during last week's Sidewalk Festival Days. Announcement was also made that toys of all kinds are badly needed for the Kiwanis year-round Toy Project.

ALL WARRENITES wishing to donate toys to this very worthwhile project are asked to leave them at the Norris Optical Company at 338 Pennsylvania Ave. west, he said. Any one having a quantity too large to bring to the store may make arrangements to have them picked up by contacting Terry at the Norris Optical Company.

Joe Passaro announced the election day spaghetti dinner, stating that his committee had set a goal of 1,000 dinners. The Kiwanis sponsored Key Club, whose members are high school boys, will assist Kiwanians in various ways during the dinner. Guest at yesterday's meeting was Deke Ley of the Youngsville Kiwanis Club.

He told the crowd in his speech from the Capitol steps that this is a united nation in an election year.

Johnson said "our only purpose still is peace," but should another nation employ armed satellites in space, the United States will be prepared and ready to meet them.

He said he wanted his voice heard around the world.

The President visited the Aerojet-General Corp. plant near Sacramento and watched the successful static test firing of a Titan 3 missile engine.

Seven in County Lose Licenses For Violations

Seven Warren County motorists have had their operator's license suspended or revoked for the period beginning August 31.

They are: Johnny Chimenti, 211 Madison Ave., speeding, one month; Lawrence M. Fox, 707 Conewango Ave., speeding 4 months; George W. Gnage, 908 Pennsylvania Ave., speeding 3 months; Roland C. Heeter, 220 N. Main St., Clarendon, speeding, 2 months.

Also: Richard W. Martin, 195 Main St., Tidioute, driving during suspension, 1 year; Richard P. Rosenquist, 204 Falconer St., speeding, 4 months; Charles P. Wynn, RD 1, Spring Creek, speeding, one month.

Area People Asked To Aid Lutheran Home for Aged

Area people who would benefit are being asked to support a Lutheran Home Development Fund drive for $150,000 which is needed to make necessary repairs to the former Kane Mansion and also for an addition needed for total care of the elderly.

THE DRIVE was announced this week by the Rev. T. C. Scheifele, pastor, who is spearheading the drive. He announced also that the campaign, which will continue for nine weeks, will be conducted by a representative of Ketchum Inc. of Pittsburgh.

Contributions are being sought in gifts and pledges from the Lutheran Churches in the service area and from individuals, corporations and foundations whose recognition of the need for this facility would prompt them to give their generous support to the funding of it.

THE BUILDING has been designed especially for the total care of the elderly," Mr. Scheifele said, "and this means physical, mental, emotional, social and spiritual care. In addition to building this 'complete care' facility, it is also our purpose to interest ourselves in the overall problems of this age group in the 50 to 60 mile radius of Kane in helping to provide the so-called 'non-institutional' services so badly needed by the elderly in this area."

Two recognized area leaders are heading the volunteer organization—the Rev. Paul W. Kroon, pastor of Emanuel Lutheran Church in Bradford, and O. Albert Johnson, president of Hamlin Bank and Trust Co., Smethport.

MR. KROON, who holds a BD degree from Rock Island Seminary in Illinois was ordained into the Augustana Lutheran Church in 1955 in St. Paul, Minn. He first served at St. Andrews Lutheran Church, Hempstead, L. I.

He has had wide experience and has accepted much responsibility in several important agencies of the church, such as the Welfare Council of Metropolitan New York, the Board of Lutheran Social Service of the New York Conference of the Augustana Lutheran Church.

HE ALSO SERVED on the joint committee of the merger of the Western Pennsylvania-West Virginia Synod of the Lutheran Church of America and is now a member of the Committee on Social Ministry of the Synod, District Two of the Synod, a member of the board of the Children's Home of Bradford and president of the Bradford Area Ministerial Association.

Johnson, a native of Smethport, has been identified with the Hamlin Bank since 1917. He returned to the bank after a tour of duty during World War I, become a director in 1934, assistant secretary in 1938, treasurer in 1945 and treasurer in 1946.

IN 1954, while retaining his duties as treasurer and director, he was named vice president. In January of 1959 he rose to the post of executive vice president and treasurer. He became president in 1960 following the death of Orlo J. Hamlin.

He is currently president of the First National Bank of Oldred and also has served as president of the Pennsylvania State Bankers Association. Active in civic and fraternal groups, he is vice president, treasurer and a director of the Smethport Water Co., treasurer of the McKean County Fair Association, and president of the Hannah L. Hamlin Memorial Fund Inc.

HE HAS DEVOTED years to the services of his church and Synod, serving as president of the board of trustees of the Trinity Lutheran Church in Smethport and currently as a member of the executive board of the Western Pennsylvania-West Virginia Synod of LCA.

The campaign office is being maintained at the former Kane Mansion, 107 Edgar St., Kane, which will soon be part of the Lutheran Home at Kane.

McDannel Aids IOOF Degree Team

Two high-ranking officers of the Pennsylvania Odd Fellows, one of them Perry McDannel of Pleasant Twp., are serving in an advisory capacity for the Northwestern Pennsylvania Odd Fellows and Rebekahs rally which will be held at Corry Area High School on Oct. 31.

McDannel, grand senior warden of the Grand Encampment of Pennsylvania, IOOF, is acting as advisor to Richard Mountain of Corry, captain of the initiatory degree staff of Jonathan Lodge No. 685, Corry.

Ora B. Wilkins of Erie, past grand master of the Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania, is acting as contact man between the committee and the grand bodies involved.

It is through the efforts of McDannel and Mountain that an outstanding degree staff composed of men from the northwestern section of Pennsylvania and bordering counties of New York is being selected to confer the degrees at the rally.

McDannel is in line for the office of grand patriarch of the Grand Encampment. He is known throughout the state as an authority on ritualistic work of the order, being familiar with all branches.

All proceeds of the rally will be contributed to the Odd Fellows Eye Bank and Visual Research Foundation.

McNamara—

to say anything about bases at which the anti-satellite systems are deployed. He did not mention where the tests were held, but it is believed to have happened over the Pacific.

McNamara said both the anti-satellite systems are derivatives of missile and anti-missile projects which have been under way for years.

The Thor and the Nike-Zeus both were started during the Eisenhower administration.

The Thor was this country's first 1,500-mile-range missile but no longer is used as a military weapon. The Nike-Zeus has been under development as a missile-killer since about 1957, with an outlay so far approaching $2 billion.

McNamara also conceded that the over-the-horizon radar has "its roots in the past."

He said it actually is a family of radar devices and the principle involves bouncing signals off the ionosphere far beyond the horizon.

He said this kind of radar is different from the currently used variety which is effective by line of sight only.

This new over-the-horizon radar, McNamara said, permits detection of enemy missile firings "within seconds of launch."

This, he said, should "close to double the present warning time" of about 15 minutes afforded by the Ballistic Missile Early Warning System ranged across Canada and in Britain.

Khrushchev—

The Soviet leader said his original remarks were misinterpreted in translation to Japanese and then to other languages. He promised an official version would be issued "but it will take a little time."

"I am not saying anybody did it deliberately. I can see how it happened," he added.

Kenji Fukunaga, leader of the Japanese delegation, said at the time he believed Khrushchev was referring to one weapon, not several. U.S. government experts speculated it might be either a cobalt bomb, a "death ray," a neutron bomb or some major advance in chemical or germ warfare.

TODAY in WASHINGTON

— By The Associated Press —

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States reportedly is urging the British to block an attempt by Fidel Castro to inaugurate air service between Communist Cuba and the British Bahamas.

Cuba served notice Thursday that the government-owned Cuban Airlines will inaugurate weekly commercial flights Monday between Havana and Nassau, the Bahamian capital.

The United States has banned trade with Cuba and has sought to encourage non-Communist nations to do likewise. In the airline field, only Spain and Mexico have allowed regular flights to Havana.

Robert J. McCloskey, State Department press officer, confirmed that the proposed Cuban Airline flights to Nassau are under discussion with the British both in Washington and in Nassau.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice

Adm. Charles B. Martell, the Navy's antisubmarine warfare

chief, says American ships and planes — in hunter-killer groups

— can cope with the Soviet Union's nuclear powered subs.

But he adds: "The problem will continue serious as long as the Russians keep building nuclear submarines at the present rate."

Martell, at a news conference

Thursday, declined to discuss the Soviet building rate, but said 200 to 300 of the Soviet Union's 400-500 submarines are long range craft.

The United States now has 45

nuclear subs in commission and more than 90 diesel-powered subs.

Your Horoscope for Tomorrow

By Single Drake

FOR SATURDAY, SEPT. 19

MARCH 21 to APRIL 20 (Aries)—You may have to slow down now. This does not mean you are stagnating. A period of rest will revive your energies for sturdier action, refresh your mind, let you see things you'd otherwise miss.

APRIL 21 to MAY 21 (Taurus)—Especially favored under an auspicious Venus; Domestic interests, romance and artistic pursuits. But stress accuracy, poise in action. Don't be left behind because of over-confidence.

MAY 22 to JUNE 21 (Gemini)—A clean sweep, a new deal, another break—call it what you will, it is here to take and make good use of, with your versatility, determination and ingenuity.

JUNE 22 to JULY 23 (Cancer)—You should have little trouble now in obtaining the attention and willing cooperation you need. Especially favored: travel, romance, domestic interests.

JULY 24 to AUGUST 23 (Leo)—Avoid haste now. You have plenty of time to handle responsibilities, obligations. Heed the suggestions of loved ones. They could prove extremely valuable.

AUGUST 24 to SEPTEMBER 23 (Virgo)—Submerge emotions and permit ideas to mature, grow. Accomplish with dispatch and efficiency, but avoid reckless haste. Set your pace deliberately, after reviewing all situations.

SEPTEMBER 24 to OCTOBER 23 (Libra)—Mixed planetary influences. Orient self carefully. A good period for gathering knowledge and imparting it in the right places. Act vigorously but without undue aggression.

OCTOBER 24 to NOVEMBER 23 (Scorpio)—You aspire to a position of leadership and inspire others with respect for their own abilities, as well as yours. Here is a brand-new chance to put over a project or even a "small" task in tip-top fashion.

NOVEMBER 23 to DECEMBER 21 (Sagittarius)—Excellent Jupiter influences prevail: an encouraging period. Cultivate your self-confidence, powers of concentration, and be patient for these results which will come more easily if you remain unperturbed.

DECEMBER 22 to JANUARY 20 (Capricorn)—Partnerships, business, personal life are all generously influenced. You, who take responsibility seriously, have fine opportunities now. Be realistic in all things.

JANUARY 21 to FEBRUARY 19 (Aquarius)—There is a tendency toward unconventionality. Don't join those who are indiscreet. In fact, you will be expected to show the way toward sensible thinking and acting.

FEBRUARY 20 to MARCH 20 (Pisces)—Here is a dandy chance for you to do a little more than asked and be highly rewarded. Don't pass it up—not for reward's sake, but to make a substantial stride in the right direction.

YOU BORN TODAY learn toward the intellectual, and desire quality in all things—most especially in your friendships. You are not snobbish, but have a high appreciation of learning; also lofty ambitions—which you CAN attain, no matter how humble your beginnings. Your one great fault is a tendency to be overly critical of others. You should conquer this since, at your tolerant best, you are a most amiable and genial companion—and people like you. You are sympathetic to the unfortunate and will spare no effort to help them.

Men In Service

John Kwiatkowski, yeoman first class, has reported for a new duty assignment at The Pentagon in Washington, D.C., and has moved his family to Manassas Park, Va.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kwiatkowski of Pittsfield, he returned to the States recently after a tour of duty with the Navy in San Juan, Puerto Rico. His wife and three children have been with his parents since April, awaiting his arrival and the new assignment.

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock market prices weakened after an initial rise and the pattern was mixed early this afternoon. Trading was fairly active.

Ford's agreement with the United Auto Workers was pretty well discounted in Wall Street. So was Chrysler's escape of a strike by office workers.

Ford opened at a slightly higher price for a while, then erased the gain.

Chrysler widened a small early loss to about a point as traders continued to take profits on the stock's latest upward drive.

Steels took a string of losses after opening steady.

An array of gains by blue chip chemicals began to fade. Oils, aerospace issues, electrical equipments and drugs held a higher tone.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .3 at 324.3 with industrials up .4, rails up .3 and utilities up .1. The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was off .23 at 868.44.

Losses of close to a point each were taken by U.S. Steel Republic Steel (ex dividend) and Jones & Laughlin. Bethlehem slipped fractionally.

Among other auto stocks, General Motors took a small loss. American Motors also dropped a fraction. Studebaker was slightly higher.

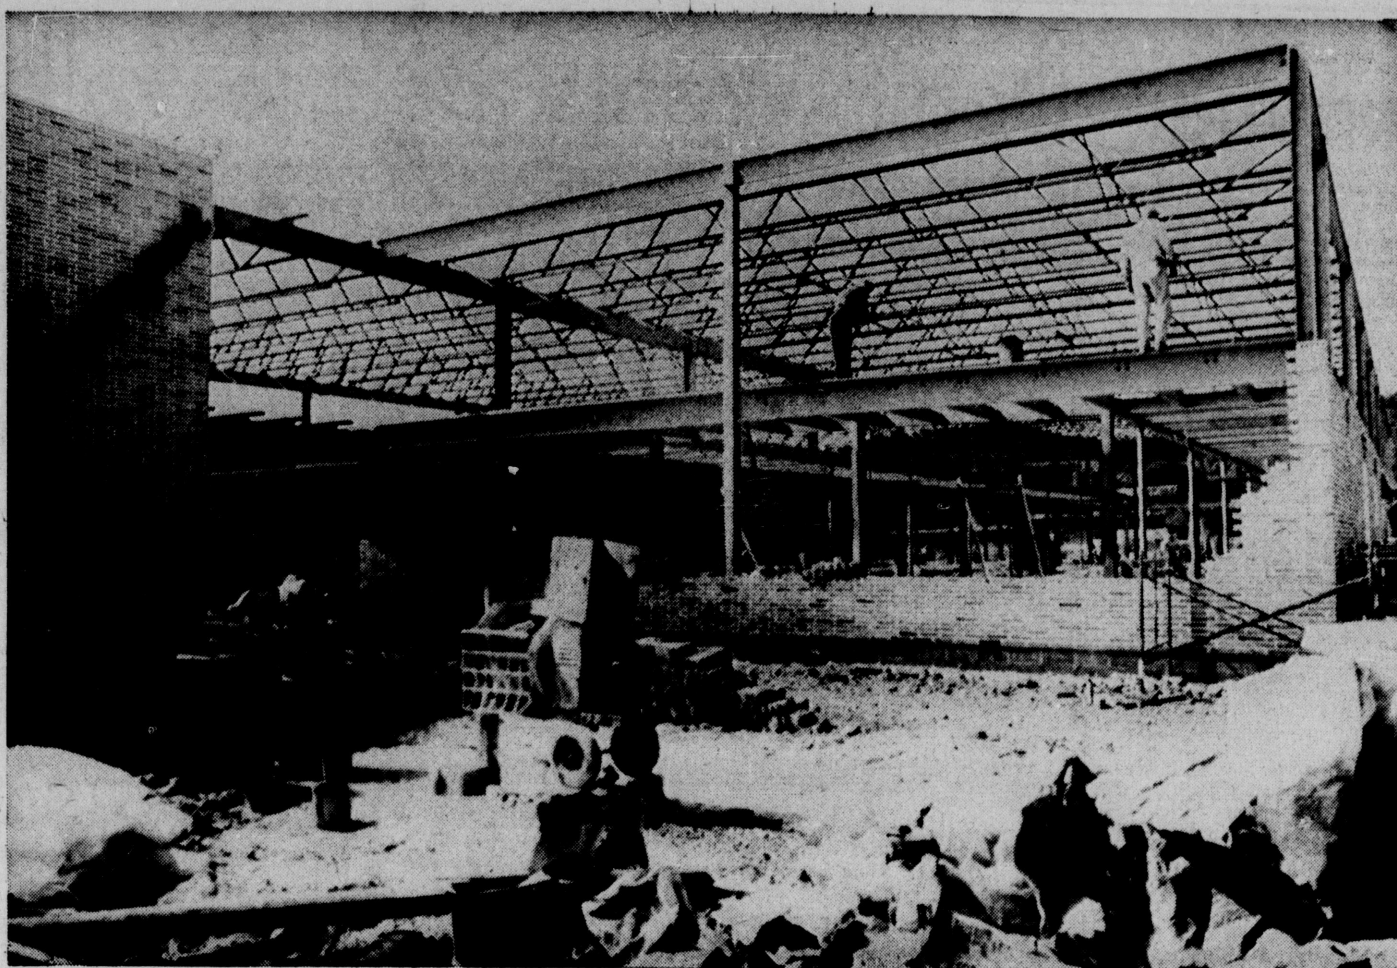

Du Pont canceled a gain and took a net loss exceeding a point.

Communications Satellite Corp. Making Temporary Managers Directors of Board

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Communications Satellite Corp. makes official today election of its temporary managers to permanent positions on the board of directors.

Backed by the traditional trump cards of company directors — management-held proxies — they were elected Thursday at COMSAT's initial stockholders meeting.

But there was considerable opposition, and on a technicality formal certification of the election and a recount were put over until today.

Meanwhile, George H. Poirier of Woonsocket, R.I., who fought management on the election and lost, served notice he will take his battle to unseat the newly named board to federal court.

Just this week, the U.S. District Court and an appeals court here rejected an effort by the textile manufacturer to force a 60-day delay in the meeting to give him time to round up Poirier has charged the COM-

SAT management with improper and undemocratic procedures.

The six members of COMSAT's temporary founding board of directors now permitted to take seats on the permanent board are:

Leo D. Welch, chairman; Joseph V. Charyk, president; David M. Kennedy of Chicago; George Killion of San Francisco; Leonard H. Marks of Washington, and Bruce G. Sundlun of Washington.

These six were appointed originally by the late President John F. Kennedy. They represent the six places on the 15-man board given to public investors.

Communications carrier firms are major stockholders in the congressionally created firm and their six places on the board were given Thursday to:

James E. Dingman, Harold M. Botkin and Horace P. Moulton, all of New York and all designated by American Telephone & Telegraph Co.; Eugene R. Black and Ted B. Westfall, both of New York and both designated by International Telephone & Telegraph Co., and Douglas S. Guild of Honolulu, nominated by the Hawaiian Telephone Co.

President Johnson will appoint three more directors.

NEW YORK (AP) — American industry continues to step up both its output and its plans to swell the capacity to produce still more goods and services.

The performance is father to the planning. And a continued rise in production must materialize if the announced expansion is to prove profitable.

The record so far is reassuring. Industrial production has been rising for 12 straight months. And in the last 11 of these, each month has set another high. Output is now 6 per cent greater than a year ago, and 33 per cent higher than the 1957-59 average.

This has changed the picture for a number of industries. For a while they were struggling to put idle capacity to profitable use, and meanwhile to cut production costs to balance their books. Now they are finding demand for goods so strong that they can afford to build new plants.

For several years the emphasis has been on mechanizing and updating existing plants to cut costs. Next year the stress will be more on building new capacity.

The 12 months of steady advance in industrial output followed a short-lived dip in the summer of 1963 that had interrupted a seven-month climb before that. Together the overall gains since the start of 1963 have put to work much of the surplus capacity that plagued industry after its big expansion spree in the mid-1950s.

Now each new government or private survey of businessmen's intentions raises the ante for spending on expansion.

Many figures back up those on industrial output itself. Manufacturers' sales are running 6 per cent ahead of last summer and profits have climbed 17 per cent. Profit margins are now averaging 5.5 cents for each dollar of sales, compared with 5 cents a year ago.

Factory employment last month came to 17.5 million, up 300,000 from a year ago. The factory work week averaged 40.9 hours, the highest for any August since 1950. Average weekly earnings of factory workers are put by the government at $103, up 4.5 per cent from last year.

For corporate planners this all adds up to this: Record sales and profits, increased employment and personal incomes, and ample funds in company tills. And these spell the opportunity for greater production capacity to meet the promise of future increases in consumer spending and industry's own demands for materials and machines.

Bell To Begin Tidouite Job

The Bell Telephone Co. today announced plans to start work on a $10,000 building addition to its Tidouite Central Office building.

The company plans to construct a 21 by 16 foot addition to the front of the central office building to house dial switching equipment needed for future estimated telephone growth in the area.

The contractor for the job is D. Griffin and Sons of Bradford.

Sidewalk Days Organizations Given Thanks

The Retail Division of the Warren Area Chamber of Commerce is directing through this newspaper an open letter to all organizations that participated in last week's Sidewalk Festival in appreciation for their part in making the merchant's promotion a success.

"We, the merchants of the Retail Division of the Warren Area Chamber of Commerce, thank all of the organizations who participated in our recent Sidewalk Festival by placing and manning booths for the two-day period of the Festival.

"The affair was a great success, from our point of view, and completely justified the considerable expense involved in staging the Festival.

"We hope that you were as happy with the results as we and you are wholeheartedly invited to participate again in September, 1965."
